Without "U" there is no "Us."

There are many things that make a school and each school year special. From the familiar ringing of the bell to Mr. Fagan's smelly cigars. Most of the time when someone thinks of school they visualize a cold brick building, where inside there are sleeping students being awakened by teachers. There are also students who are cramming for tests and some who are just goofing off. The teachers present a world of opportunity to the cooperative students and let the students who are sleeping and goofing off know that they aren't getting anywhere. These are the roles of the teachers. Together they make the cold brick building a warm place to be.

The administration also does its part to Richard Sanders and Toni Green visit before having to go to class.

Here, the halls are filling after the 8:05 bell.

For late sleepers, breakfast is served in the mornings.

The upper elementary students wait patiently to lead the buses.

Steven McRae and Eric McMillian put up the flags before school as Lance Anderson watches.

make our lives a little easier and more fun. They channel the money through to us for field trips and computers. They make sure we have someone to prepare a hot meal for us. And there is always a bus waiting to provide our transportation to and from school. There is much appreciation for those who patiently drive the buses.

When we came back to school at the first of the year there were lots of changes. The shiny hall floor made everything look new. Fortunately, we have someone who manages to keep it looking that way. For this we thank the custodians and maintenance workers.

All these things we appreciate- "Without you there is no us".

Another day in the crown halls of Foreman High.

These Jr. High students want to be first inside when the 8:05 bell rings.

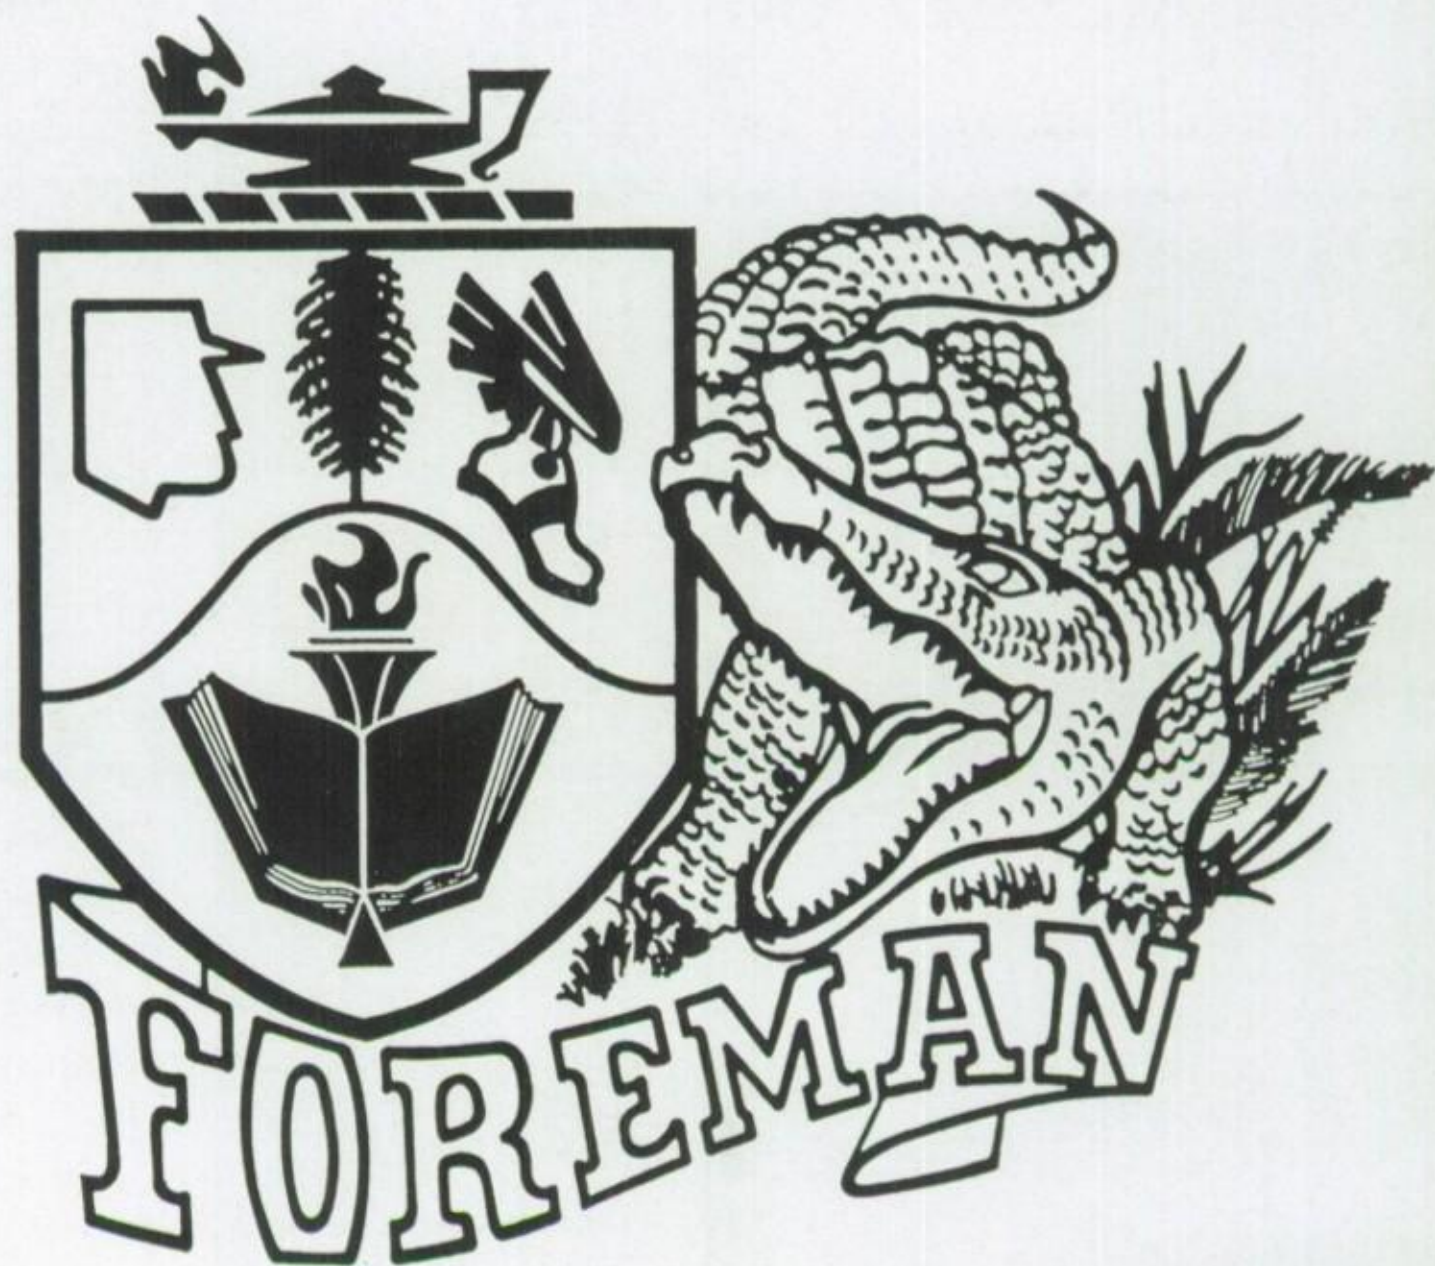

The Sr. High students wait outside for the 8:05 bell to ring.

SCHOOL LIFE

"Days Of Our Lives"

School life is just like another everyday soap opera. Everyone has their ups and downs, their exciting points yet some of the most important experiences of their lives. For students, most of their lives revolve around the school between academic and extra-curricular activities.

Many fads went around including the well known "Punk" and "Flashdance" styles. In the music industry, hits by Def Leppard and Michael Jackson were extremely popular. It was not unusual to see bandanas, pin striped baggies, mini skirts, and T-shirts that looked like they were 50 years old.

Although music wasn't allowed on campus, students found many ways to entertain themselves. Initiations were most common for the youngest on the totempole; the Freshman! This year brought many memories to the students here. Most took part in something that really mattered to them. Always remember, without "U", there is no "US".

To Students, School Life Is . . .

Adapting to the school in a way in which the surroundings become meaningful in your daily life. Michael Jones

Going to school with my friends, sharing good times and bad. Cynthia Lee

Most of my life and most of my memories! LeiAnn McCandles

Starting the day off by playing with her puppy Freeway, gives Carmen Godwin, a Sophomore, the energy to get up and get ready for another day at school.

Dreaming about another weekend already?? Susan Taaffe, a Sophomore, shows how enthused she gets when she wakes up on a Monday morning to go to school. Hang in there, Fridays' coming!!

Brushing those pearly whites starts the beginning of another day for Cissy Sain, a Junior at F.H.S. Cissy is a section editor for the Gator' Staff.

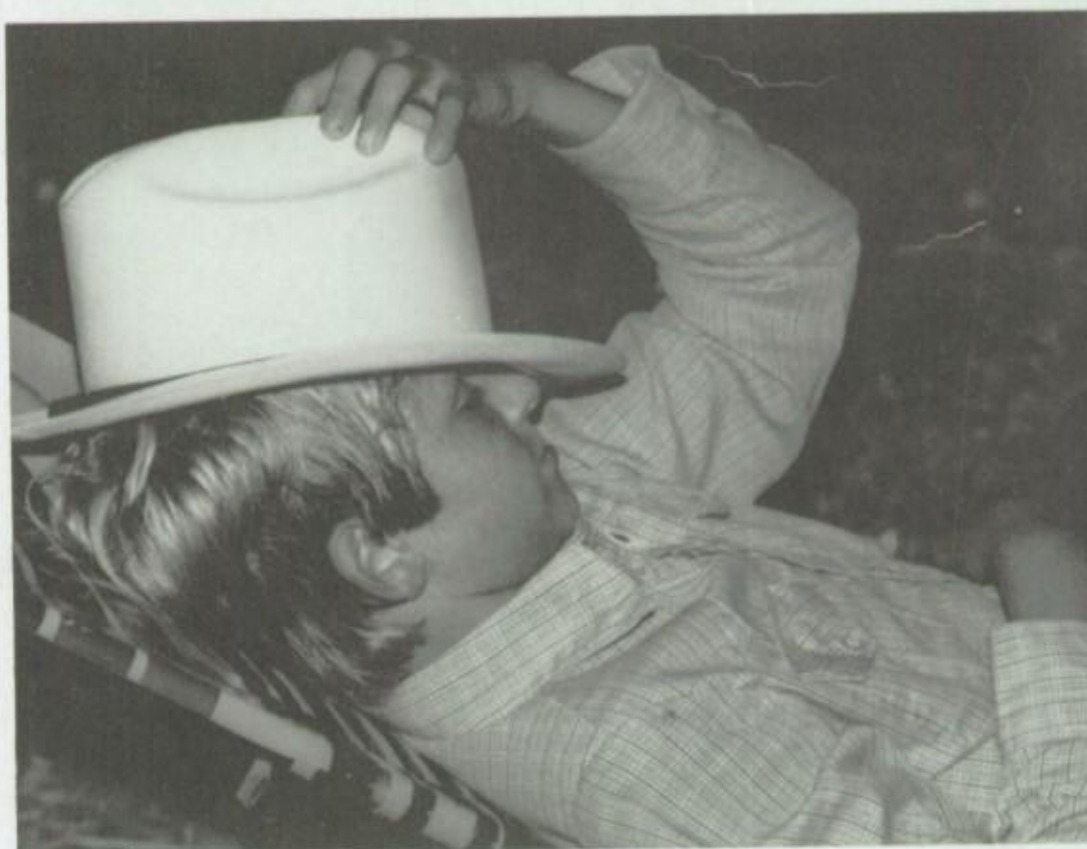

Wow! Todd Duncan really must have had a hard weekend to forget his locker combination! Mrs. Sharp, secretary at F.H.S. gives her help in finding the mystifying combination!!

Saturday Night Fever

The worst way to start off a weekend for a student is the reality of being grounded. To some, being grounded may only last for an hour or two on a Friday night, but to others it can pass on through the whole weekend. You wouldn't think that staying home for just "ONE" weekend could cause very much harm, but staring at four walls for a certain length of time can bring on some pretty strange and peculiar symptoms to some. As one of our students at F.H.S., Cissy Sain says, "the worst part of all to me is having to beg and end up either getting into more trouble or pleading just enough for moma to finally let me out of the house so I'll leave her alone."

For those who can't go out on weekends anyway, parents are determined to find a way to make kids suffer. To some, the worst you can do to punish them is to take away their phone privileges. As Kim Reed, a Junior at F.H.S. says, "whenever my mother tells me that I'm grounded from the phone, I feel like she's taken away half of my world!!"

You may think so but there are ways to pass time while you're grounded, some students use strange but sometimes helpful pastimes, that even sometimes get them ungrounded as Nancy Latham says "I go into my room and throw a fit and usually after a while I get ungrounded" But then again theres the unfortunate people who remain grounded after all attempts.

Dressed in latest fashions are Jimmy Baker, Todd Sharp, Charles Hudgeons and Eric Cowling, who participated in the F.H.S. Sweet Thang Pageant. Top

Spending the afternoon being lazy is Shane Southerland, who is staying with livestock during the Little River County fair and rodeo. Bottom

Flash-Dance

Although each year brings a brand new break through as far as music is concerned. You know that there were some pretty popular people that won't be forgotten because as far as their music and dancing are concerned, they will go down in history. One famous singer and dancer for that matter was "The Prince of Pop" Michael Jackson himself. His hit album of 1983'84 was "Thriller". He received many academy awards for his music and videos. New wave music has made a big splash on the teen scene today. One glance in the charts will tell you that the most popular music among teens isn't just rock-n-roll anymore. There's the new wave music that's made a giant break through Quiet Riot's "Metal Health" was extremely popular along with Rick Springfield's "Working Class Dog" and Kenny Loggins' "Footloose" albums. To mellow the scene down a bit are Christopher Cross' "Laura", Journey's "Straight from the Heart", and Lionel Richie's "Hello", Lionel Richie was one of the top ten stars in the charts this year. To pick up the move again are Def Leopard's "Pyromania" and ZZ Top's "Eliminator" helped the scene a lot. Now not to forget the Country favorites. There was George Strait's single hit "You Look so Good in Love", Merle Haggard's "That's the Way Love Goes", and Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton's duet "Islands in the Stream". Also, new dances were introduced such as the "Crack", the "Smurf" and the newest of them all the famous "Breakdancers."

Top, Seeing if Robbie Taaffe can survive another day of school is Don Adams giving him a once-over.

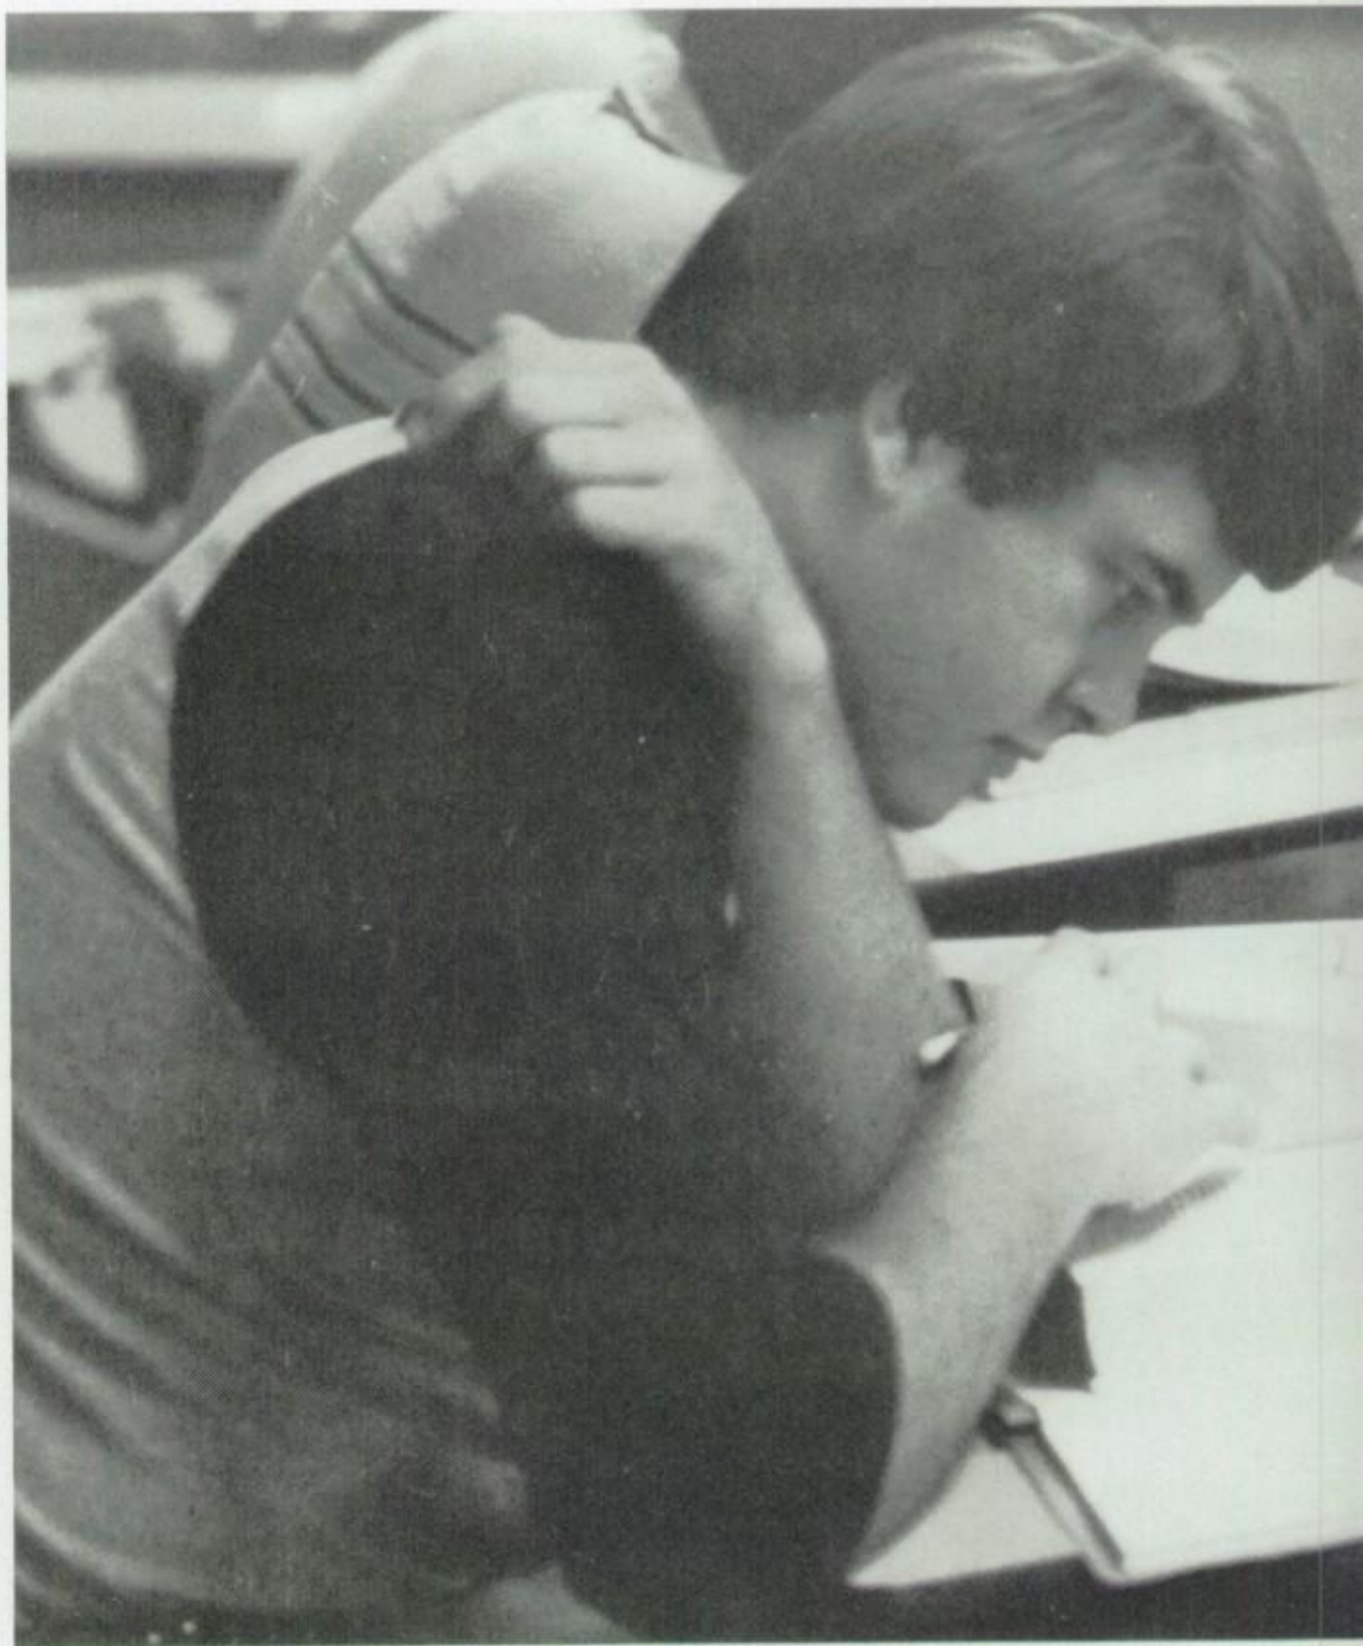

Bottom, Locking the seats for a fast and scarry ride at the County Fair and Rodeo are Joann Lavoice and Susan Taaffe.

Dressed To Kill

During this summer many new fads and styles aroused most students here at F.H.S. at the beginning of the year, the Seniors started their first day off by all, or most wearing Panama Jack T-shirts with a bandanna tied around their necks. Of course there were a few who weren't Seniors wearing that but, that was normal because at that time, those were the "IN THINGS". Another favorite to go along with this style was nothing but of course the famous "Punk Rock" hairstyle. This was a haircut in which the hair was cut over the ears and was so short on top that it stood straight up. The length of their hair was usually a couple inches above shoulder length for the guys and as for the gals which ever length they may have preferred. As the year went on new styles were turning up everywhere. It seemed everytime you would walk into a store there was always something new that you just had to have. The next style in line was the baggy look. Some were cotton, pastels, khakis and the most famous were the pin-striped denim baggies.

As far as the accessories are concerned, there were many new ones introduced. The "Nike" tennis shoes were still in strong. Penny loafers were also popular.

Colorful beads and earrings were, in along with wrap around belts. Lets not forget the punk rock sun glasses. All these things helped in making what you might say a "STYLISH" 1984 school year.

Top - Studying his literature real hard is Mike Burney a Sr., who seems to be really interested in the story.

Bottom- Finding a way to spend the afternoon is Connie Heath, Tommy Cleghorn, Shane Hollowell, Sue Langlois and Danny Whisenhunt clowning around.

The Main Event

Surviving the week of school is what you might say worries most students at F.H.S. sometimes those bad test grades could give a kid an ulcer worrying about being grounded and having to miss a weekend in town. But when the worrying is over, it's Party Time. Everyone has their own opinion to what "their" kind of Party means. Mostly it's either to go to one of the three most popular hangouts in Foreman. This includes the Hop, the Gator Inn, or the Cabin. All three serve the food teens like most, "Junk Food". Usually no one stays inside for long. They go outside, crank up their cars, blast the radio and cruise town. Other than cruising town there isn't really many things that kids can do in Foreman. Some kids like to go to the Country Skateland Skating Rink while others prefer to just sit around and talk until it's time for them to go home. A lot go to nearby towns such as Ashdown, New Boston, and Texarkana. In Texarkana many go to a place called Spanky's. It's a club for kids, It's got mixed drinks like a normal adult club but without the alcohol. Although Foreman may have some pretty boring nights, there is always those weekends that make up for it. One is the Little River County Fair and Rodeo. Don't let us forget the many dances put on by Foreman's own band, "The Flat Creek Band" Two of the students from F.H.S. perform in this band, Tommy Cleghorn and James Horn.

Top- Seeing England would be nice for Troy Lewis, Jackie Frye and Terry Haywood looking at Alicia Wright's pictures will do.

Bottom- Trying to learn a new dance for the Sweet Thank Pageant has Terry Smith, Don Adams and Robbie Taaffe going in circles.

At The Movies

To start the year off, many new and exciting previews were being shown at the movies at Texarkana. Since Foreman doesn't have a theatre, some students at F.H.S. say that T-Town is the closest one to drive to. Although that is a drive-in itself, it's usually worth the while.

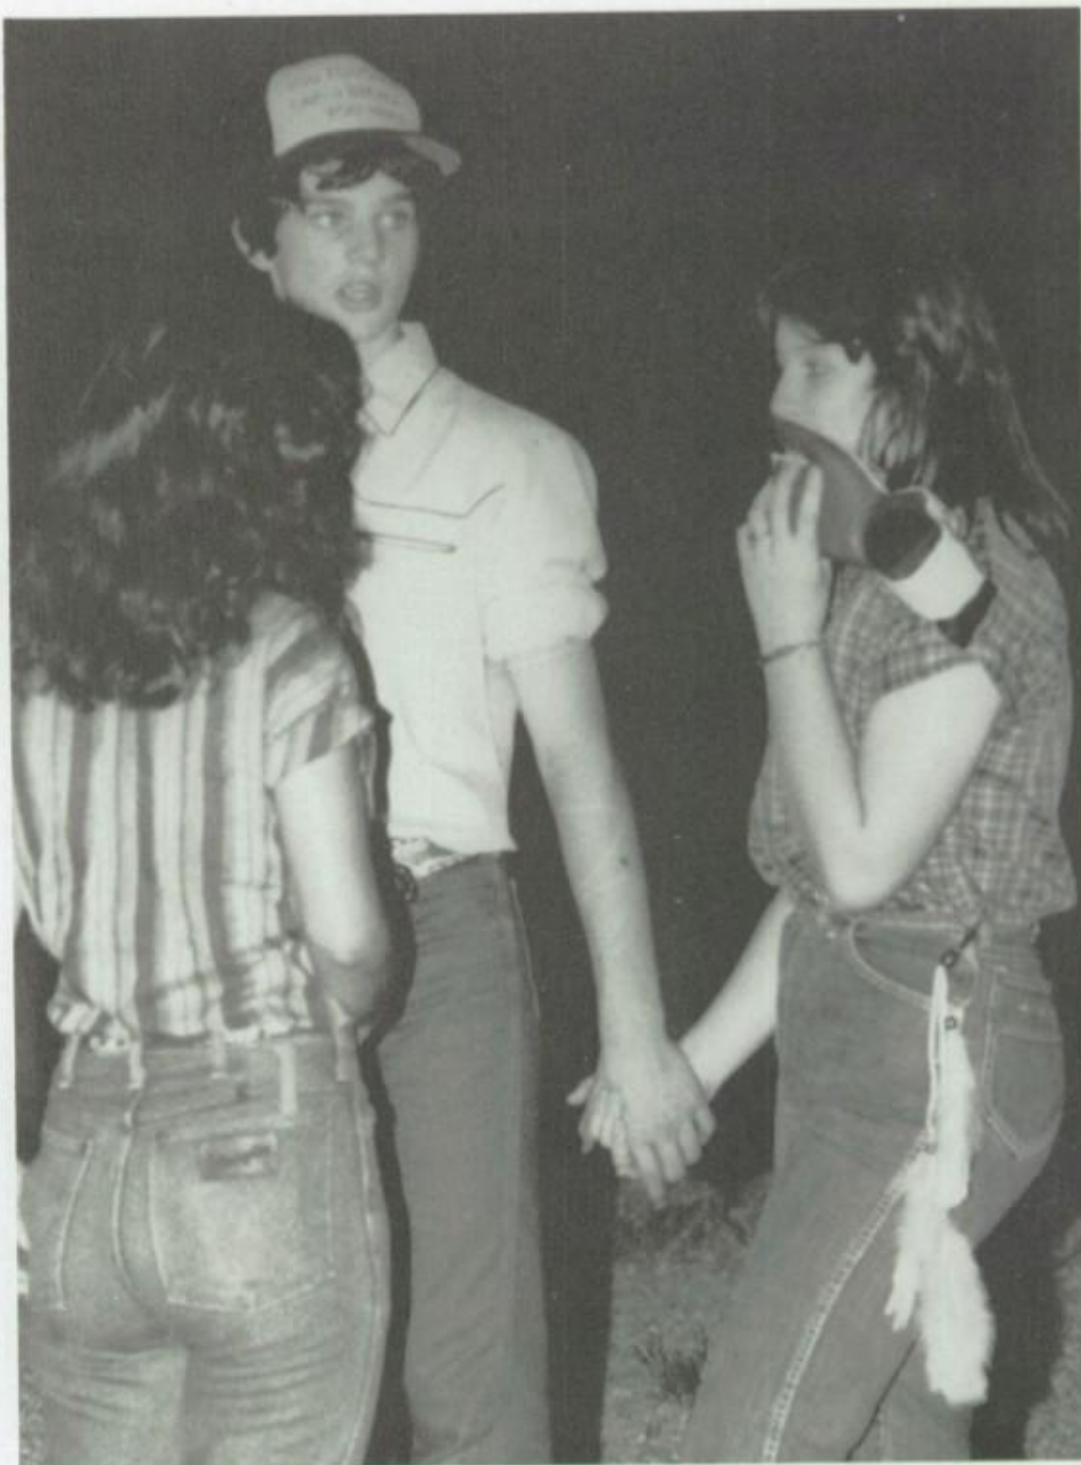

One movie was even filmed in Fouke, Arkansas, not very far from Foreman. The movie was called "The Legend of Boggy Creek II." It is about the Fouke Monster in Fouke, a monster that resembles Big Foot.

Another favorite was "Risky Business", starring Tom Cruise. Donna Whisenhunt stated that "The movie was fun, different, and never had a dull moment."

Other top movie hits ranked from the scarriest to the funniest ever made. These included; "Christine", "Amityville Horror in 3D", "Against All Odds", "Two of a Kind", "Hot Dog", "Footloose", "Class", and last but not least, the famous "Flashdance"!

Another break through in technology brought about the buying of satellites and the hooking up on cable and HBO to many T.V. sets to residences in Foreman. Videos to rock, soul and country music were being shown. The famous M-TV was the hit for rock fans.

On the old faithful normal T.V. many old series were reintroduced. One of the teachers at F.H.S. stated "the MASH reruns are my favorites. I've seen some a dozen times and still love them, Hawkeye is my guy!"

Top- Talking to friends are Terry Bowman, Karey Beasley, and Penny Davis who are at the County fair and rodeo.

But don't even mention leaving out the hottest shows on T.V. the SOAP-OPERAS.

Bottom- Four Junior girls Cathy Hardwick, Molly Brown, Denise Hemphill, and April Davis, take time out of their busy schedule to pose.

They are all still going strong and full of eager suspense.

Master Of The Game

It was not unusual for a family to have a home computer in their home this 1983-84 year. Many students here at F.H.S. got Atari's, Coleco Vision, Intellivision and other computers for Christmas. At school we acquired many new cassette tapes for our Commodore Pet computers. Some were for fun and games, others strictly to lift up your learning ability and some were both fun and educational. The tapes covered all fields from English to Science. Next year we hope to have even more tapes. As far as game room videos, many new ones were introduced, but some old ones from last year still hung strong. "Pac-Man" and "Mrs. Pac-Man" "Frogger", "Destroyer" and "Centipede" were many old favorites. The three-dimensional game, "Q-Bert" was a hit along with "Donkey Kong" and "Donkey Kong Jr." The first laser-disk game was "Dragon's Lair". Then again we can always rely on the outdoor games. Baseball and softball are very popular sports many people enjoy playing and watching whenever the warmer weather moves in. We could never forget one of the favorite water sports and that's water skiing. Its a lot of fun! A lot of people go to the River and float down it on inner-tubes, while some just prefer swimming by the bank and just goofing off. Many of the churches in Foreman have different activities. Some go skating, have hayrides, and some even go to Six Flags or other amusement parks in the Four States area. Games can really be fun!!

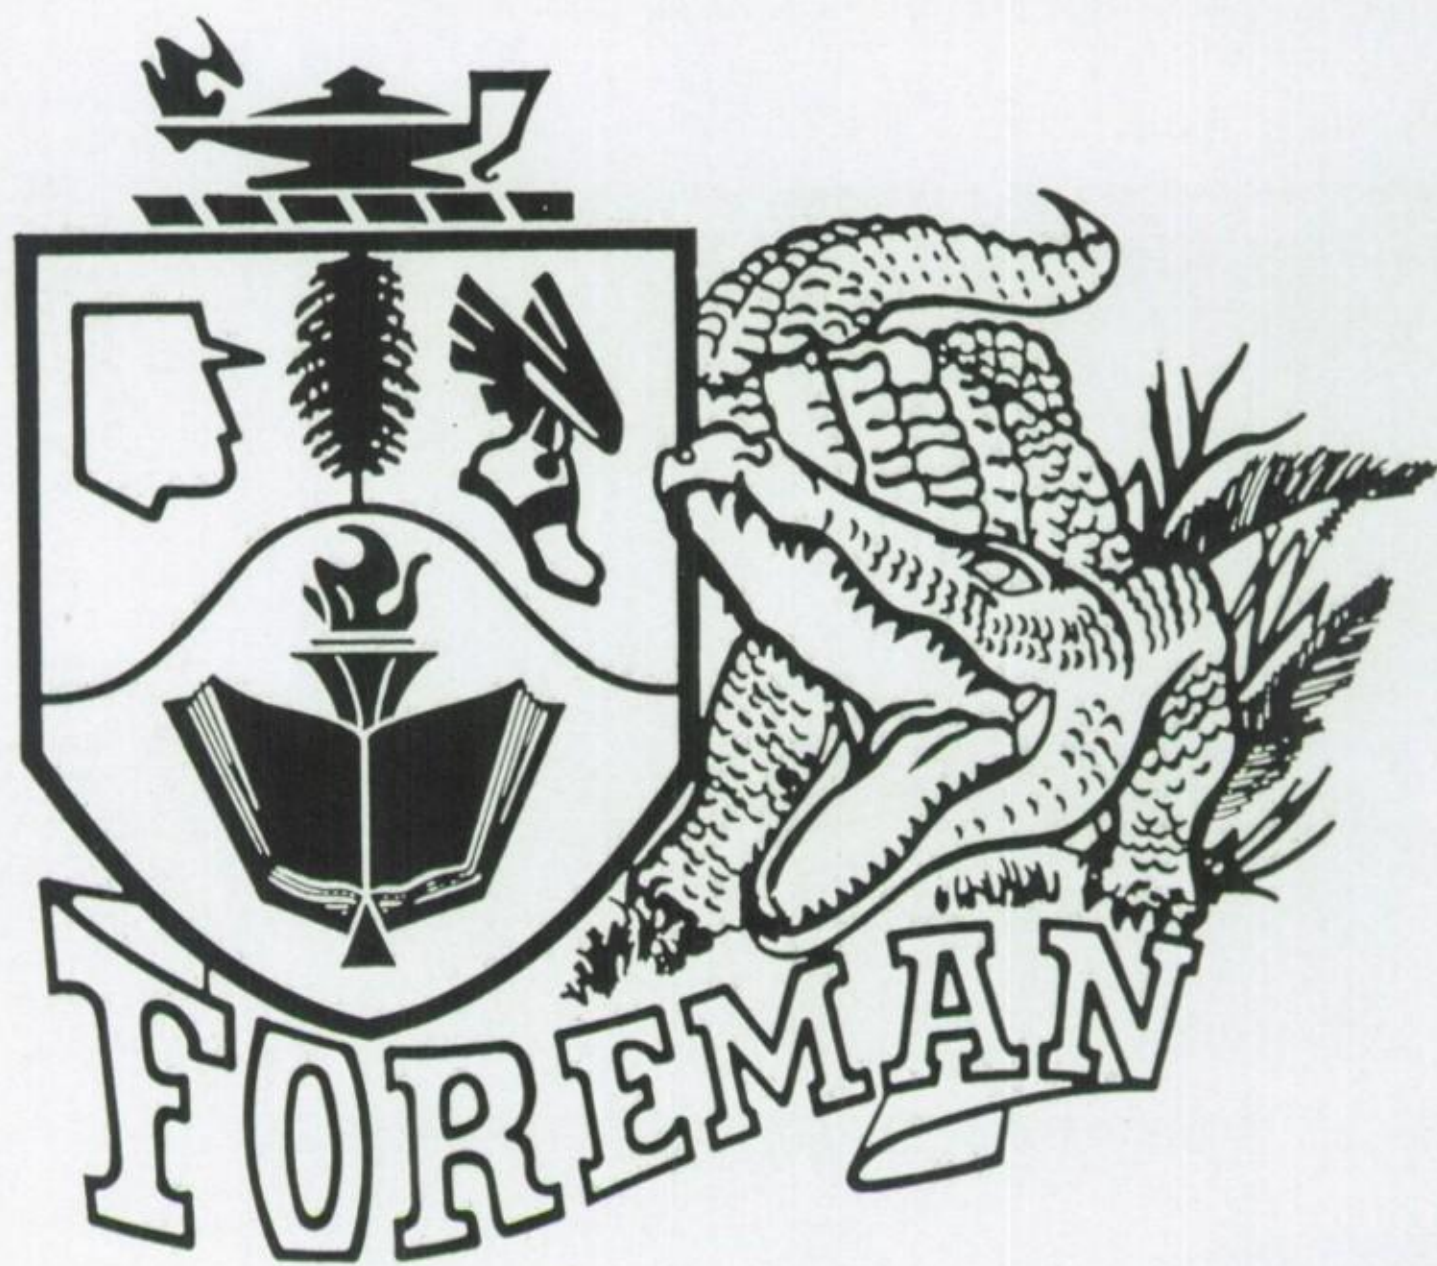

Top- Now presenting F.H.S.' famous clown-arounds: Tommy McDonald, James Horn, Don Adams, Andy Gauldin, Richard Carver, Robbie Taaffe and Donald Carver.

ACADEMICS

Learning Experiences

At 8:00 the morning rush begins with crowds gathering, teachers visiting, and most of all, students trying to get to their lockers and to class before the tardy bell rings. But without all this hustle and bustle, school just wouldn't be the same.

The academic courses cover a wide variety extending from Analysis to Health. All classes offer a great deal to help in furthering an outstanding education to obtaining a successful career.

Many activities during this year have helped students scholastically. Our G.T. students have expanded their knowledge with the help of the new G.T. teacher, Mrs. Elrod. They visited the Perot Theater in Texarkana and saw a play about Eleanor Roosevelt, called "First Lady". Also, during the summer two students continued their dedication to F.F.A. Robbie Taaffe and Richard Carver attended the Washington Conference Program in Washington D.C.

To Students, Academics Is . . .

"To expand your knowledge in courses that will insure the Future of the World for generations to come."

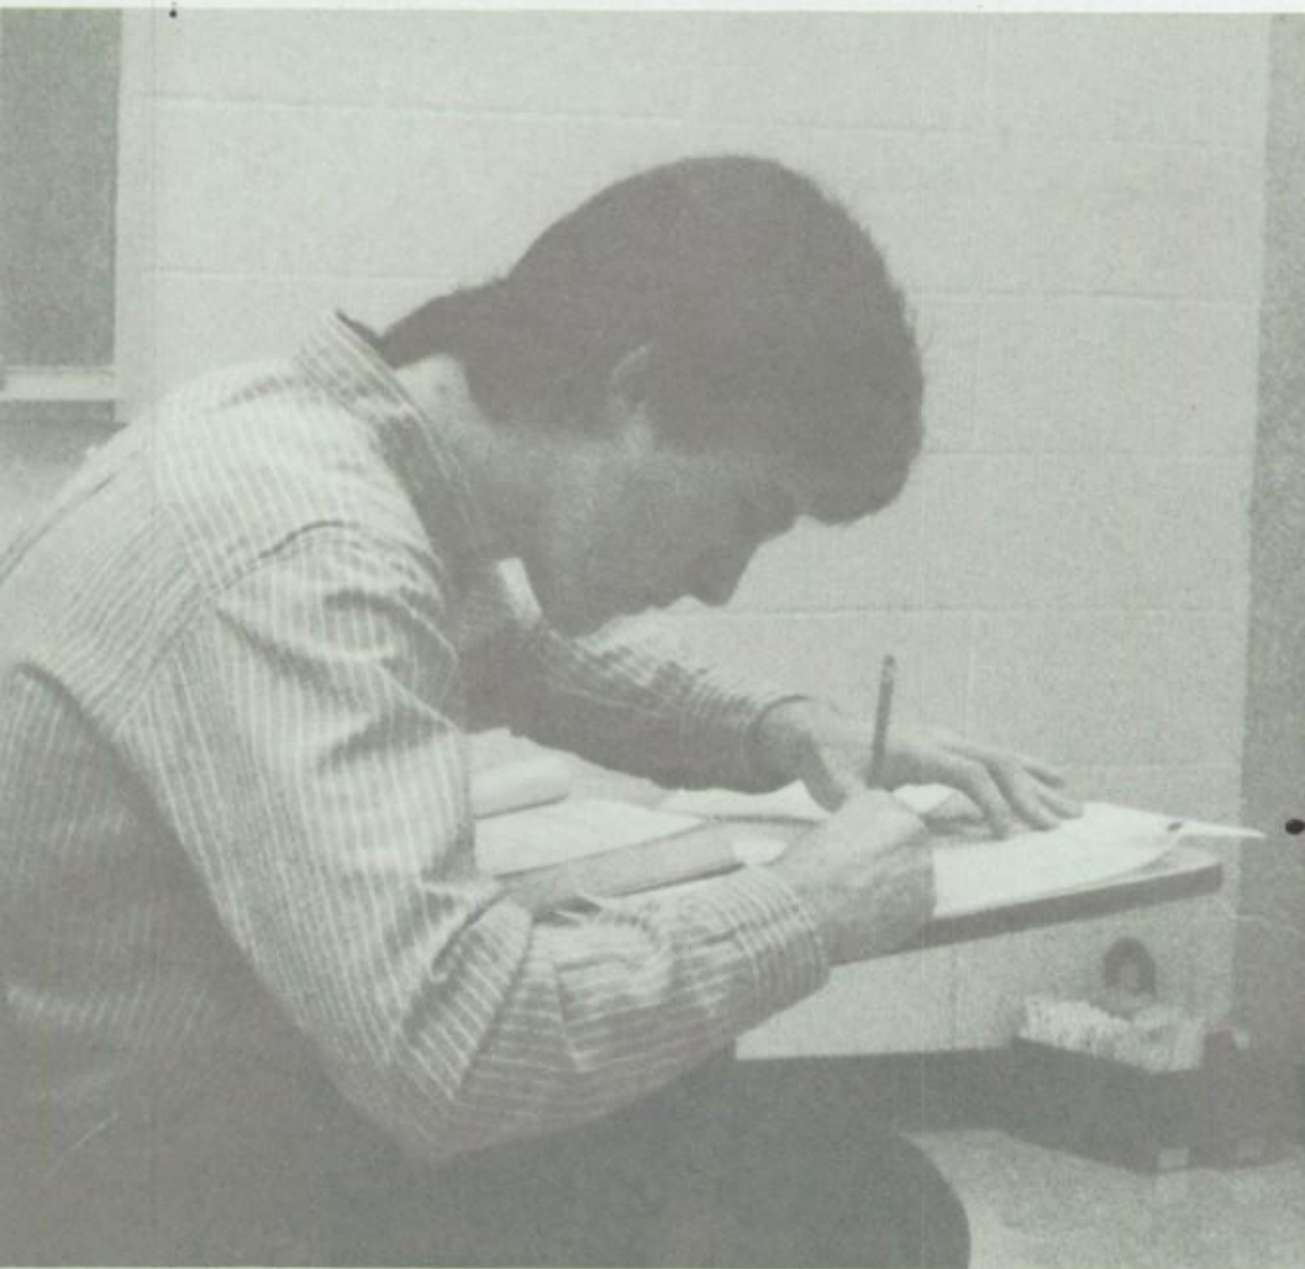

Jerry Key

"Being good at something and getting credit for it."

Donna Roberts

"Work, Work, Work!!!!"

For Don Adams, a Junior, working on Rationalizing Denominators with squared and cubed roots is a daily routine used in Mrs. Bakers first period Algebra II class.

Susan Taaffe, a seventh grader, shows how frustrating Mr. Stuarts' math class can be, especially on a boring day like MONDAY!! It's not that bad is it?

Three Freshmen, Gina Oliver, Melauna Talley, and Tina McDaniels, find it to be surprising to actually find time to goof off in Mrs. Bakers 5th period Algebra I class.

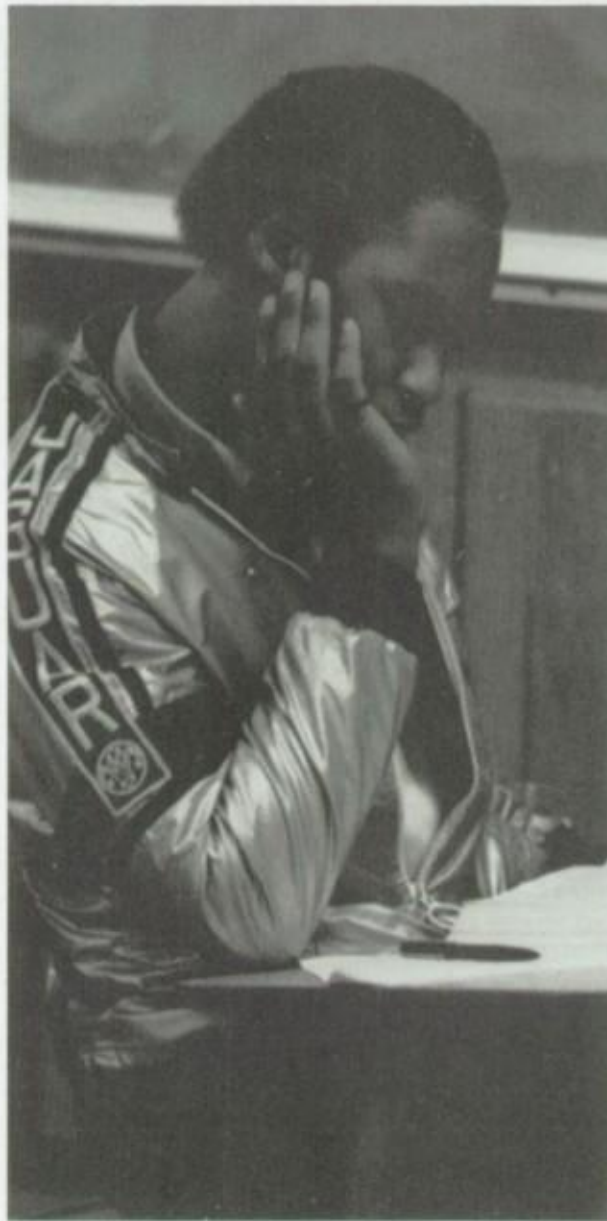

A Learning Key To The Future

During 6th period, these three Juniors; Don Adams, Mike Gross, and Andy Gauldin work on the computer. Don is a library aide 6th period while Andy is in weights and Mike in baseball.

This year, Mrs. Traywick's Jr. English class read the well known melodrama called Our Town, by Thornton Wilder. A.D. Chator shows his interest in this play. Another work they did was Nathaniel Hawthorne's, Scarlet Letter."

Computers brought a great deal of fun to F.H.S., even though they are educational, many students still enjoyed working with them as this Senior, Sylvester Haywood proves to be true, that work can actually be fun!

OH NO! These two Juniors, Bobby Hatchett and David Daniels have found something a little more interesting than Mrs. Traywicks English class. It must be something that they probably weren't supposed to see!!

This Sophomore student, Pam Heath, works hard on her composition she is doing for Mrs. Smith's 4th period English II class. Pam was also elected as first vice in FHA for the 1984-85' school year.

If I were this Junior, David Daniels, I'd watch out for that bear staring down at him! David is a student in Mr. Oliver's 4th period Physical Science class.

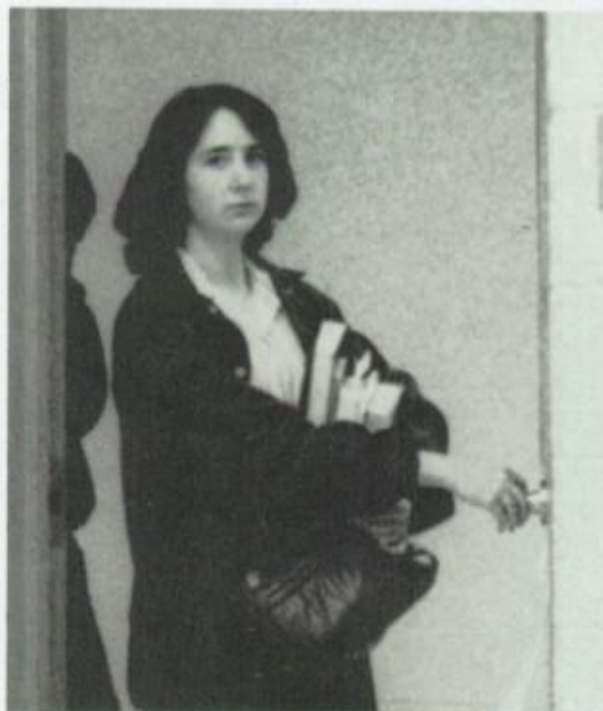

The Power Of Knowledge

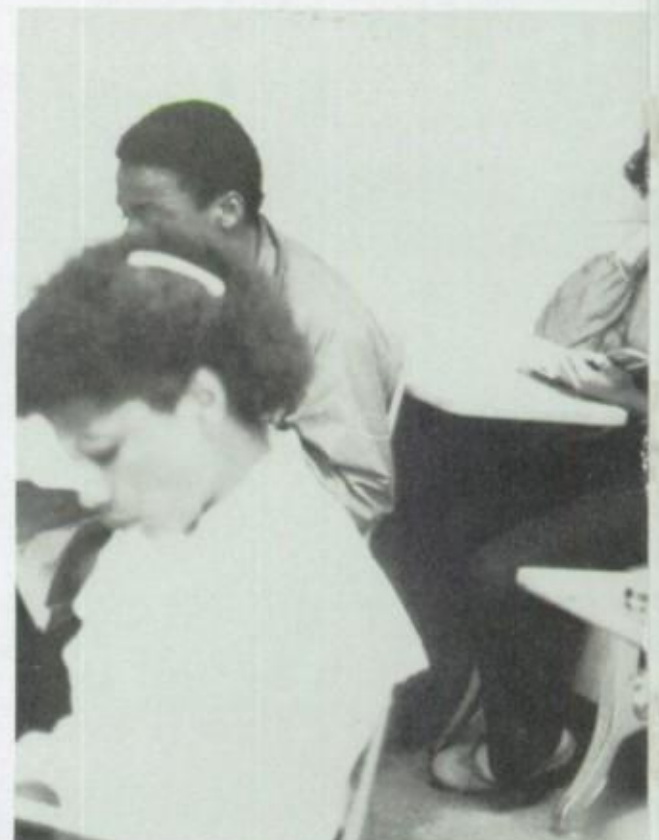

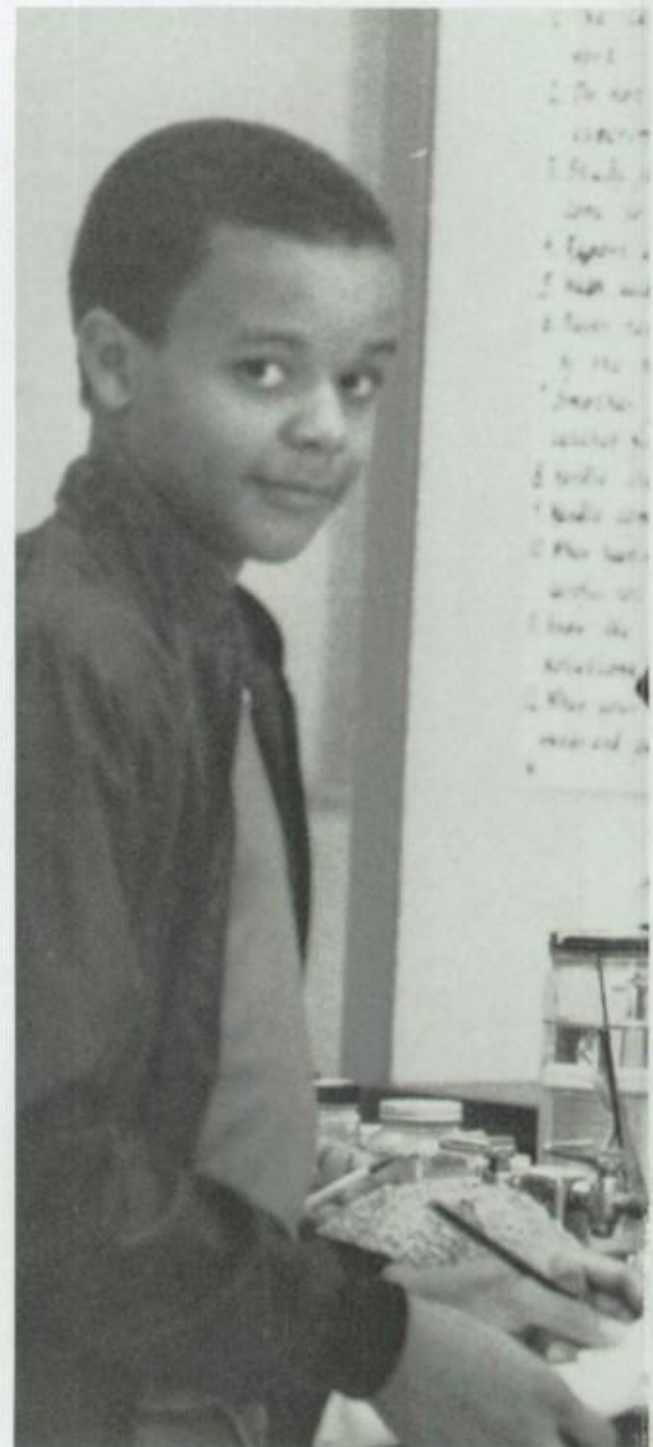

Disecting a frong isn't as fun and as interesting as it was expected by the look on these Sophomore's, Eric Robert's, Joe Martin, and Chris Clayton's faces. It's not that bad is it?

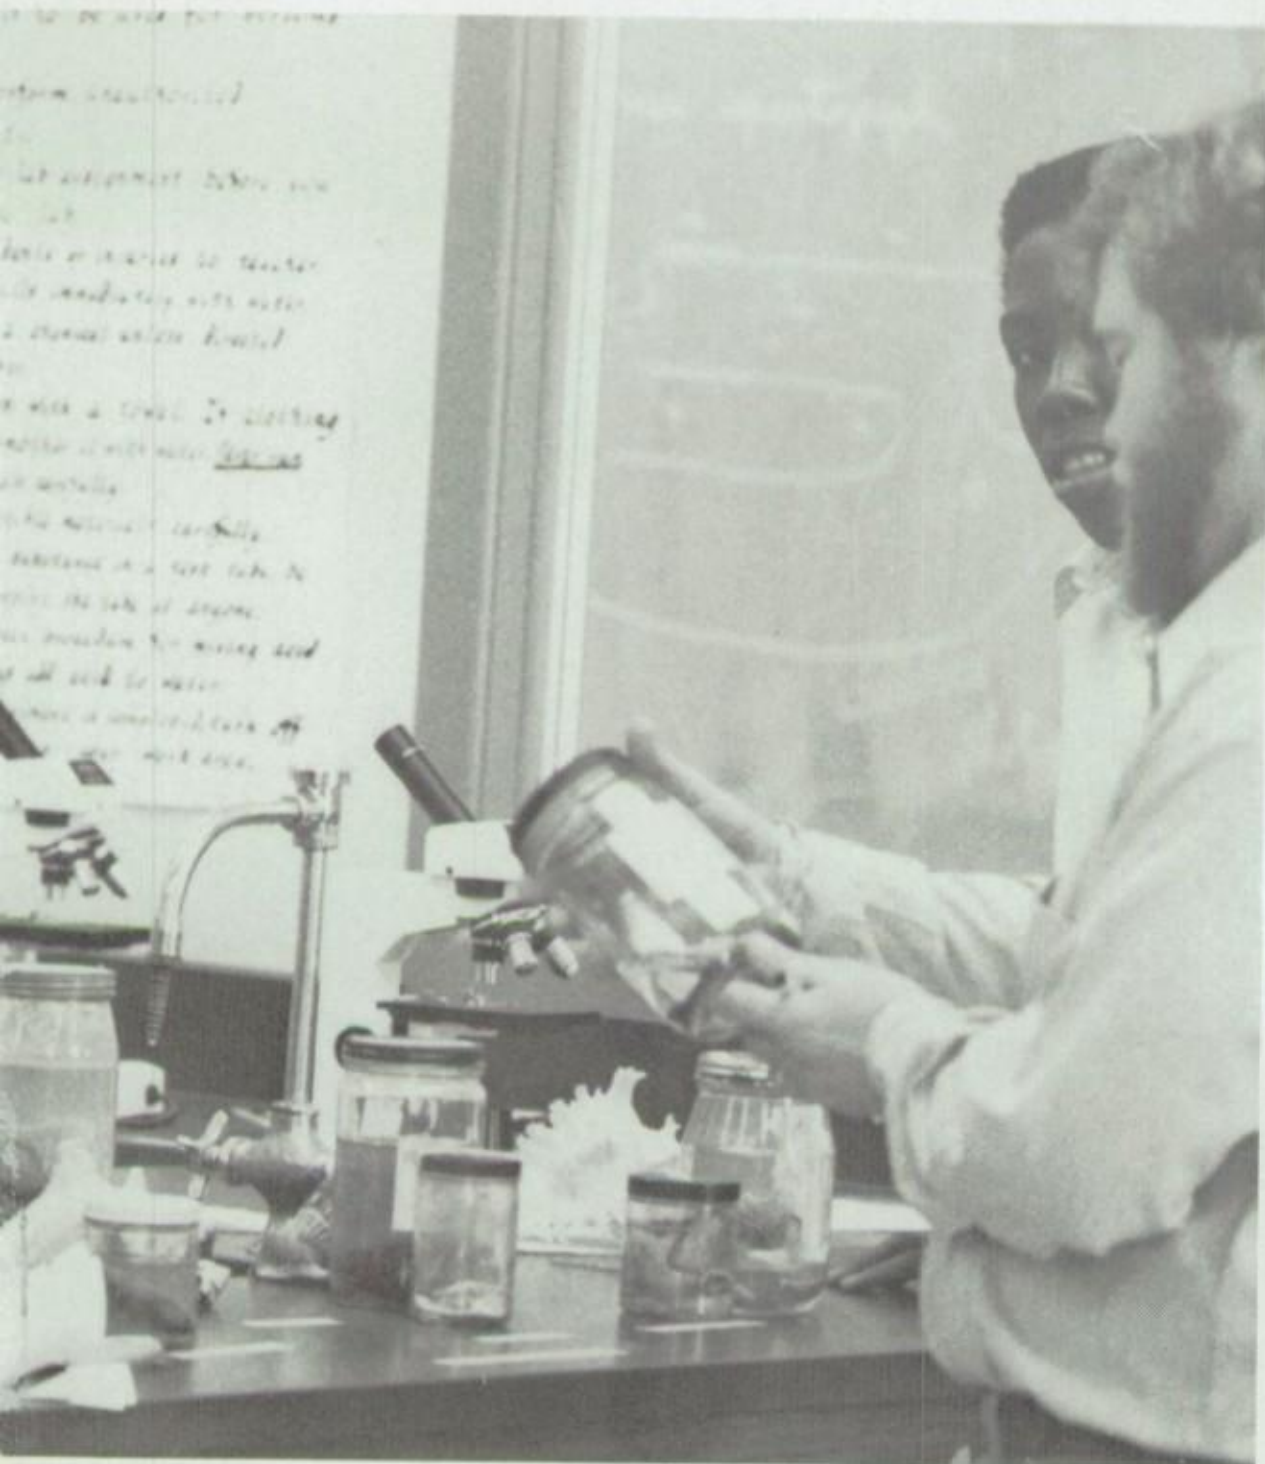

OH NO! Today must be test day in Mrs. Baker's Algebra II class for this Junior, Paula Woods. Paula was chosen as a member of the National Honor Society early in the year.

Reading American Literature in Mrs. Smith's English class can actually be interesting shown by four Juniors, Denise Hemphil, Michael Jones, Derrick Dangerfield and April Davis. One favorite was the Scarlet Letter by Nathaniel Hawthorne.

One of our Science teachers here at F.H.S., Mr. Oliver shows two sophomores, Darrell Roberts and Henry Hooks some new techniques that can prove to be useful for their Biology course.

Clowning around in Mrs. Traywicks Senior English class is the everyday usual thing for this Senior, Mike Burney. Mike also enjoys participating in rodeos in his spare time.

Reading English Literature can be very tiring work at times as two Freshman girls, Vivian Jackson, and Kim Wiseman show. Vivian was chosen to reign as the Jr. High Homecoming Queen for the 1983-84' school year.

Literature can really be mind racking as this Freshman student, Donna Armstreet shows. Don't worry, class is almost over. Donna is a member of the band, and also a feature majorette.

Everybody's Business . . .

Well by the look on this Sophomore's face, Esther Jones, grammar is a real pain in the neck for her. Esther is a student in Mrs. Traywick's 4th period English II class.

By the looks of this hat, it seems that this Junior has been on a trip to Mexico. Don Adams wore this hat on "Hats off to the Gators day."

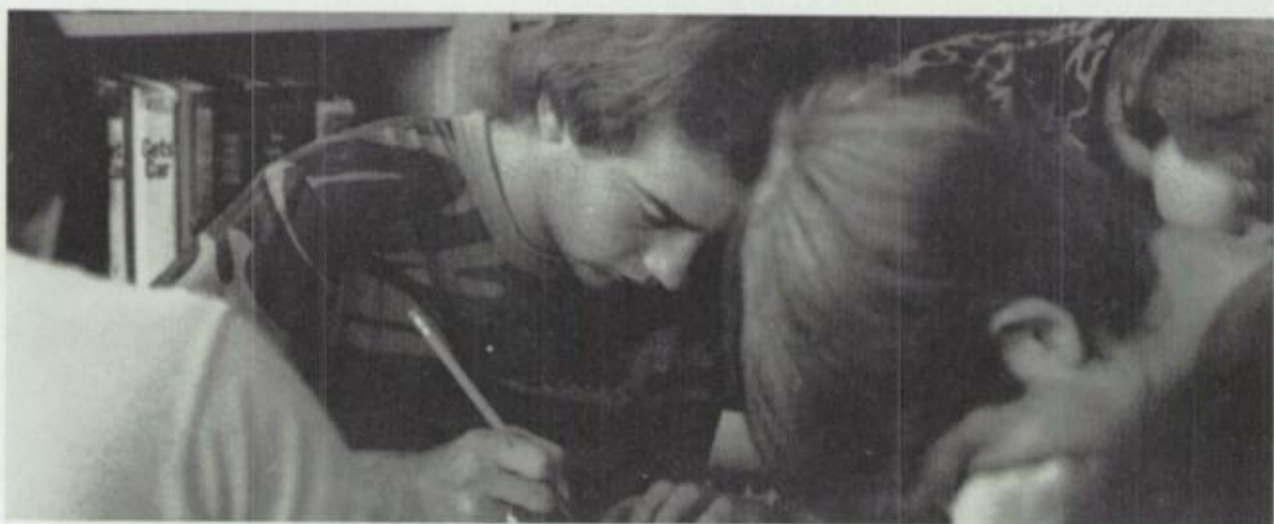

Typing up short letters for Mrs. Shirley Smith's Typing I class can be pretty hard sometimes as this Sophomore, Beatrice Bromsey seems to show. Oh well, be glad you're using an electric typewriter!

Don't be so shocked. Your bound to mess up at least once!! This Sophomore, Pete Wiseman really does enjoy Typing I, believe it or not!! Pete is a member of the F.H.S. band.

English term papers seem to really ruin a good morning for this Senior, Tony Cross. Tony is taking Auto Body at Vo-Tech at Arkansas High.

Typing I isn't so hard after all as this Junior, Richard Sanders shows by keeping his fingers in motion. Richard also played on the Sr. High Football team this year.

These two Juniors, Terry Smith and Karen Southerland show they are all for the Gators by wearing hats on "Hats off to the Gators Day." Remember, F.H.S. IS NO. 1!!

It Isn't Easy . . . But . . . It's Fun!

Well it looks like this Freshman, Sandy Corbell, has a word or two to say about housecleaning. Sandy is in Mr. Traywicks 6th period Civics class. They are studying propaganda in advertising.

The class that all Juniors dread . . . Mr. Traywick's course that is required, U.S. History. As Deanna Wills shows, you really have to study hard to make good grades.

Acting at a commercial in Civics class using propaganda are these Freshmen, Vicki Royal and Rodney Brown. This Senior, Cindy Dunn helped also by acting out a part with them as a baby.

Well it looks like these two Freshmen, Jason Southerland and Leiann McCandles just couldn't wait to eat. They are in Mr. Traywicks 6th period Civics class. They are studying false advertising.

Librarians really have to get into their work as these Juniors, Don Adams and Robbie Taaffe prove by rearranging books in the library. Thank goodness the bell will save them in a few minutes.

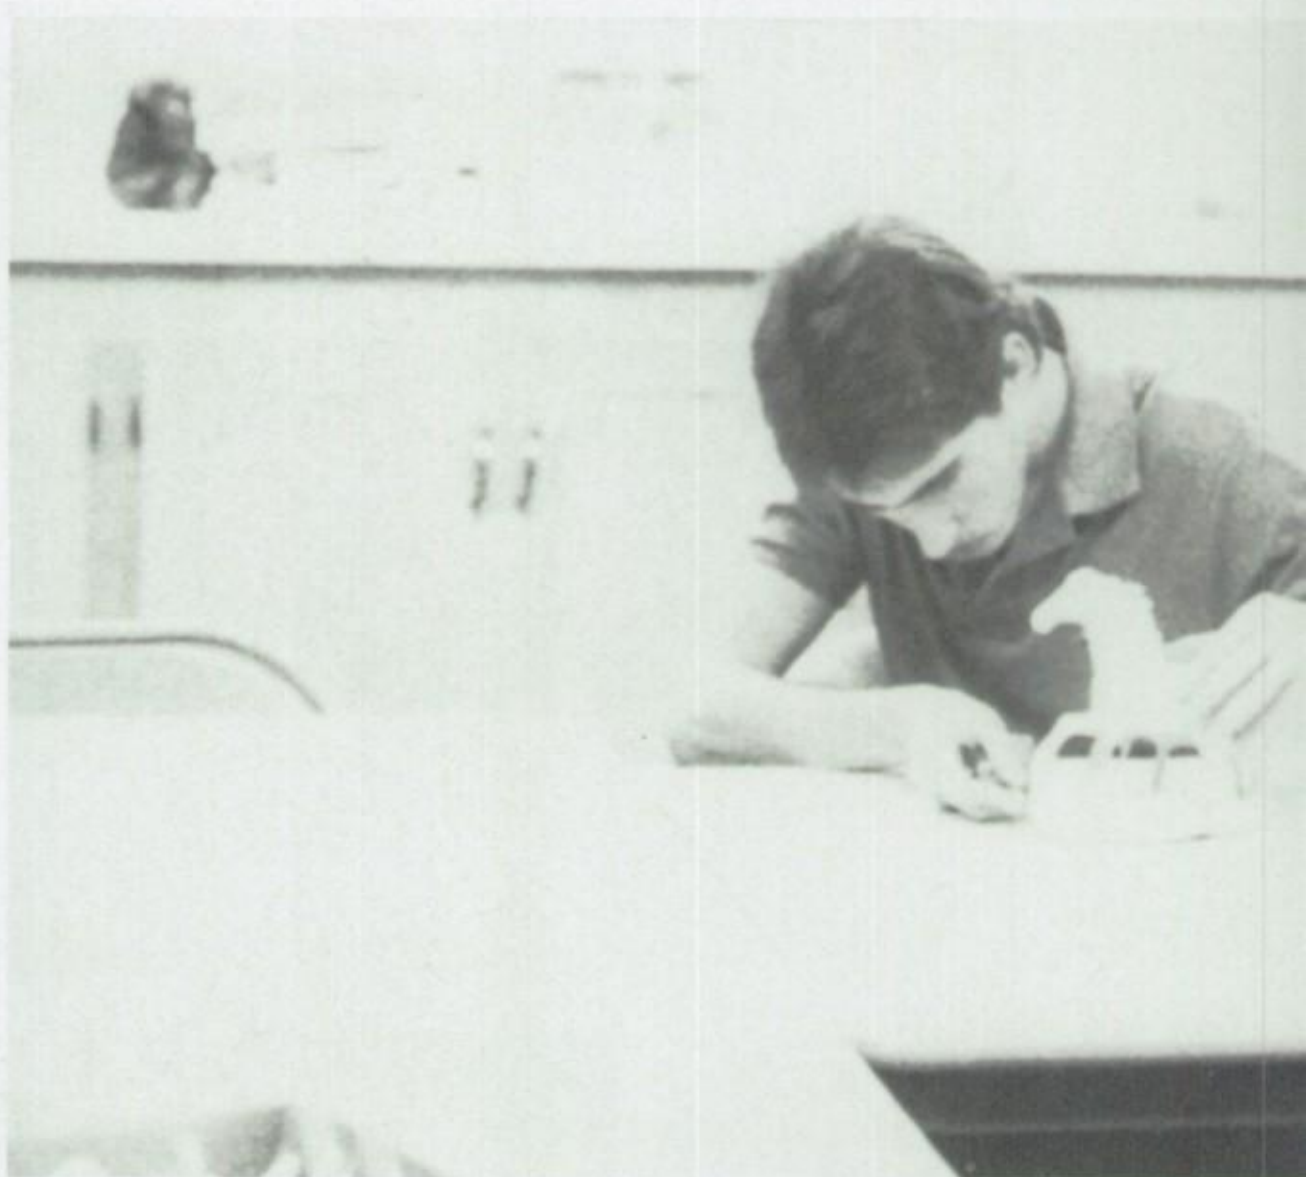

Taking a break between classes is this Junior, Melethia Stuart. Her last class must have been breathtaking. Melethia has also been a member in F.H.A. for three full years.

To Each His Own

After a long and tiring day when 5th period rolls around and there's nothing else to do but be lazy, Sheila McElhannon and Donna Whisenhunt pass time by looking at magazines.

I guess being hurt does have its advantages and disadvantages sometimes like getting to leave out of class early for Tim Howard who hurt his knee during the 83-84 basketball season.

My, my, what a big art class; but still everyone works and does their part. Brandon Carver seems really interested, Mike Burney and Sheila Green work hard too, while Mrs. Smith helps Trina Cross.

Most of school takes place up and down the hallways. Some crazy activities go on like Todd Sharp pointing the camera man out to Kristie Pyron as Jackie Frye looks too.

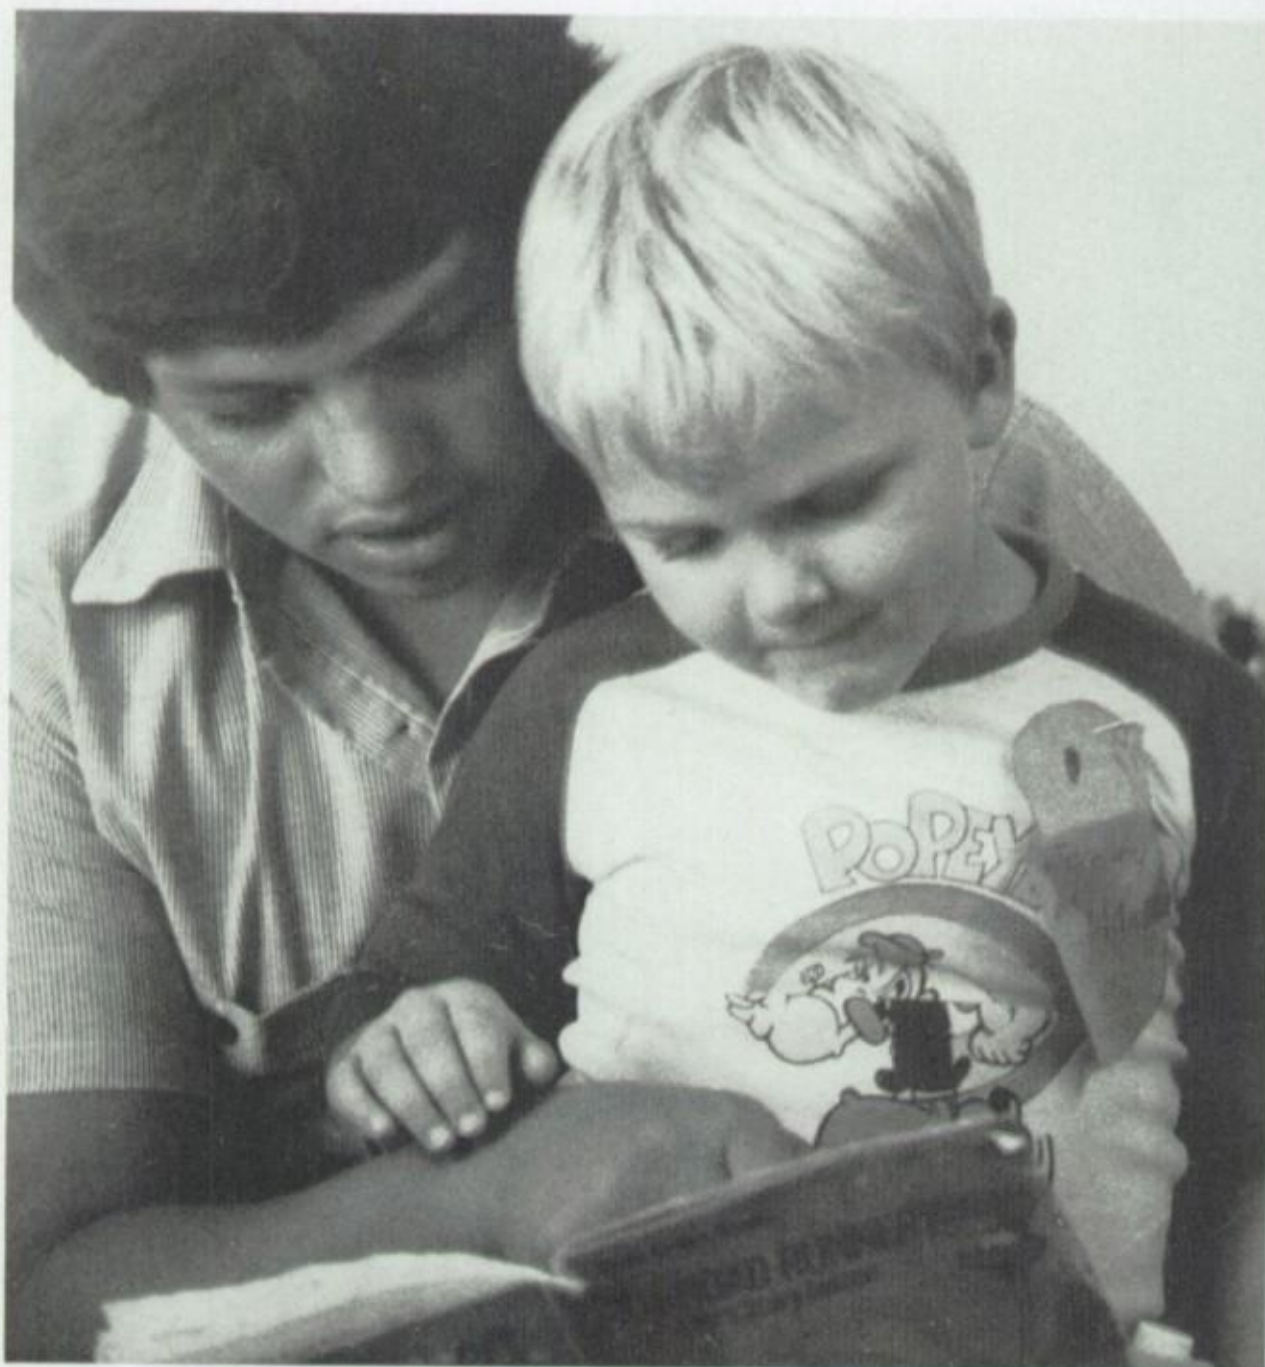

Can you actually believe there's a sign of goofing off in Mr. Traywick's history class? Angela Bishop, Rodney Brown and Melaina Talley all seem to have witnessed something funny.

Sculpting art work was a main issue in the work of the art classes this semester. Here Sheila Green smooths off the edges of a figure she sculpted.

Art doesn't have to be for the talented only but having some talent and some love for art help Micheal Dossett who smooths off the edges of a horse he sculpted.

Homemaking Is

• • • • •

In Food and Housing, designing their own housing books were projects assigned to them. These Juniors, Ricky Nash and Richard Sanders are working at their best on their books!

This Senior, Mike Burney finds that roping this calf isn't so hard after all. Mike is a student in the Foreman Agriculture class.

Ladies and Gentleman, introducing F.H.S.'s one and only Gator photographer. Bruce Talley, a Junior takes photographs and develops them for the yearbook staff.

During Home-Economics II, this Sophomore, Tracy Lawrence keeps up his work to amuse this little boy during the short course of Day-Care Center Week at F.H.S.

Life At F.H.S.

Not looking very happy about the football game with Dierks are Kim Reed and Mindy Salem. Both Gator cheerleaders performed a dance routine to the hit song "Beat It."

One of the happiest days of a Juniors life could be the receiving of their Sr. class ring. Todd Wade is happy anyway as Josten's Eddie Arnold measures his finger for a perfect fit.

Well if its not a happy day for three Seniors in Mrs. Traywick's class. Brandon Carver and Troy Lewis show off their hats while Jimmy Baker didn't wear his on F.H.S. hat day.

Spending the noon hour sitting alone isn't what Sheila McElhannon had actually planned but she's got her Doritos so she can survive the long 20 minutes.

These two girls have got spirit that say they're Gator fans and their marking it in ink. Tina Royal and Kim Wiseman sign a victory sign to prove it.

Really enjoying the fun and excitement of Foreman High, Terry Haywood and Joyce Smith are really so excited about the happenings of the day that their big smiles had to be put on film.

More Than Just A Class

Well it looks like this Senior, enjoys his work at the Vo-Tech school at Arkansas High School. Frank Moore has attended this school for two years. He is studying the technology of welding.

This student, Darrell Threadgill is a Junior here at F.H.S. Darrell is attending the Vocational school in Texarkana at Arkansas High School. He is studying Graphic Arts.

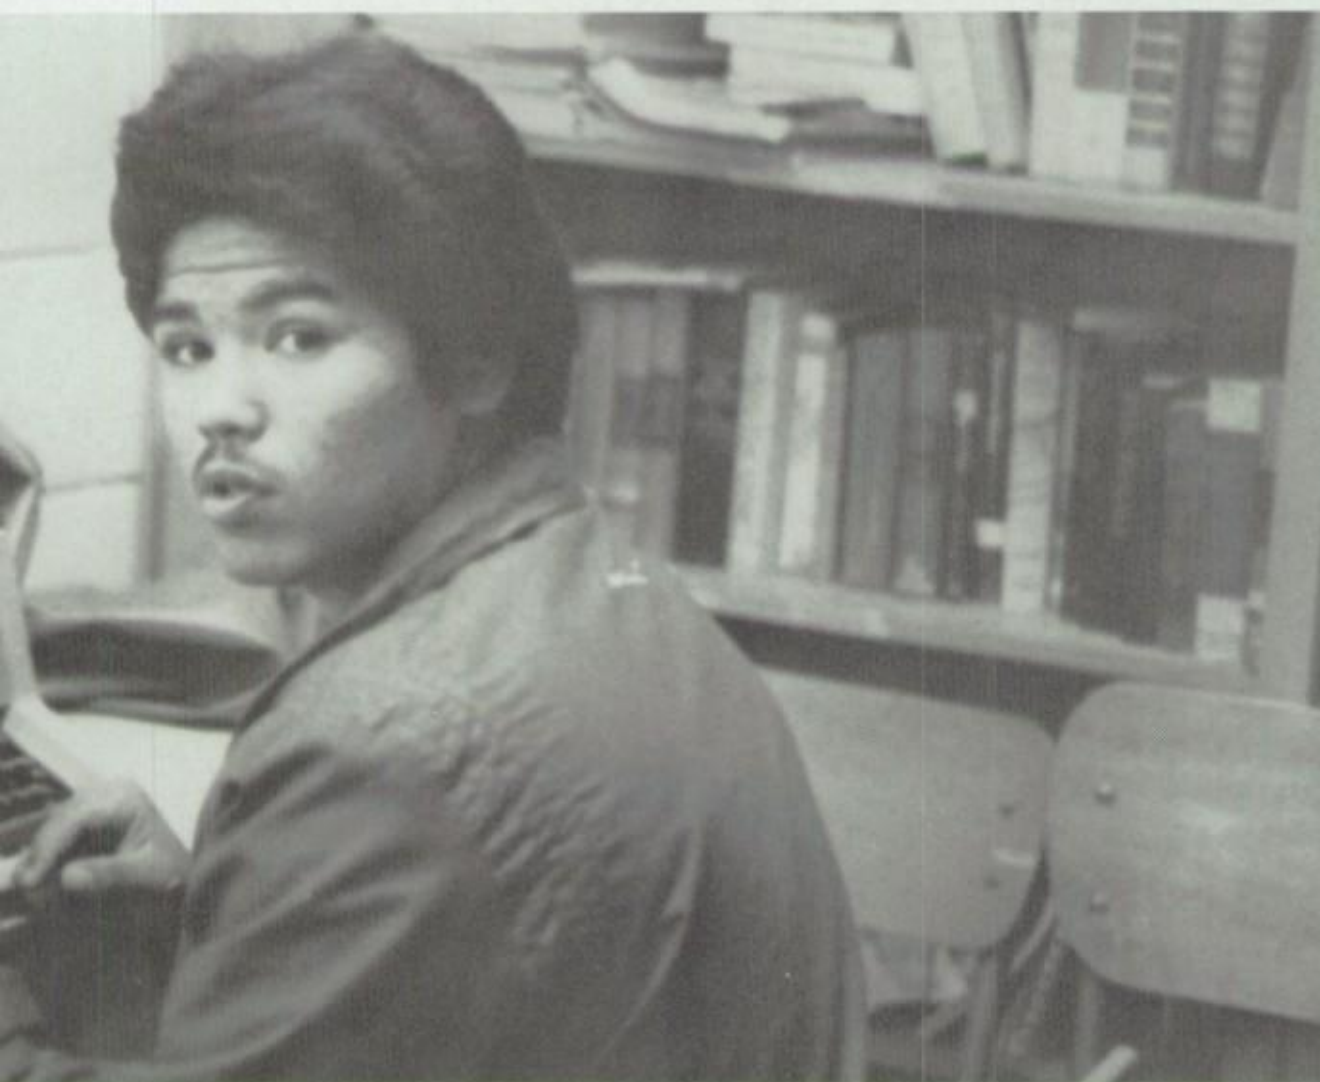

Acting like Peter Pan is this Junior Michelle Russell. Michelle had to wear a costume representing a character as an initiation into the National Honor Society. Keep up the Good Grades!

During the 1983-84 school year, these two students attended Vo-Tech. Todd Wade has attended one year and Tony Cross has attended two years. Both are in auto body.

Showing his skills in auto body at the Vo-Tech school in Texarkana is James Keeney working underneath a car. This is James's first year at Vo-Tech.

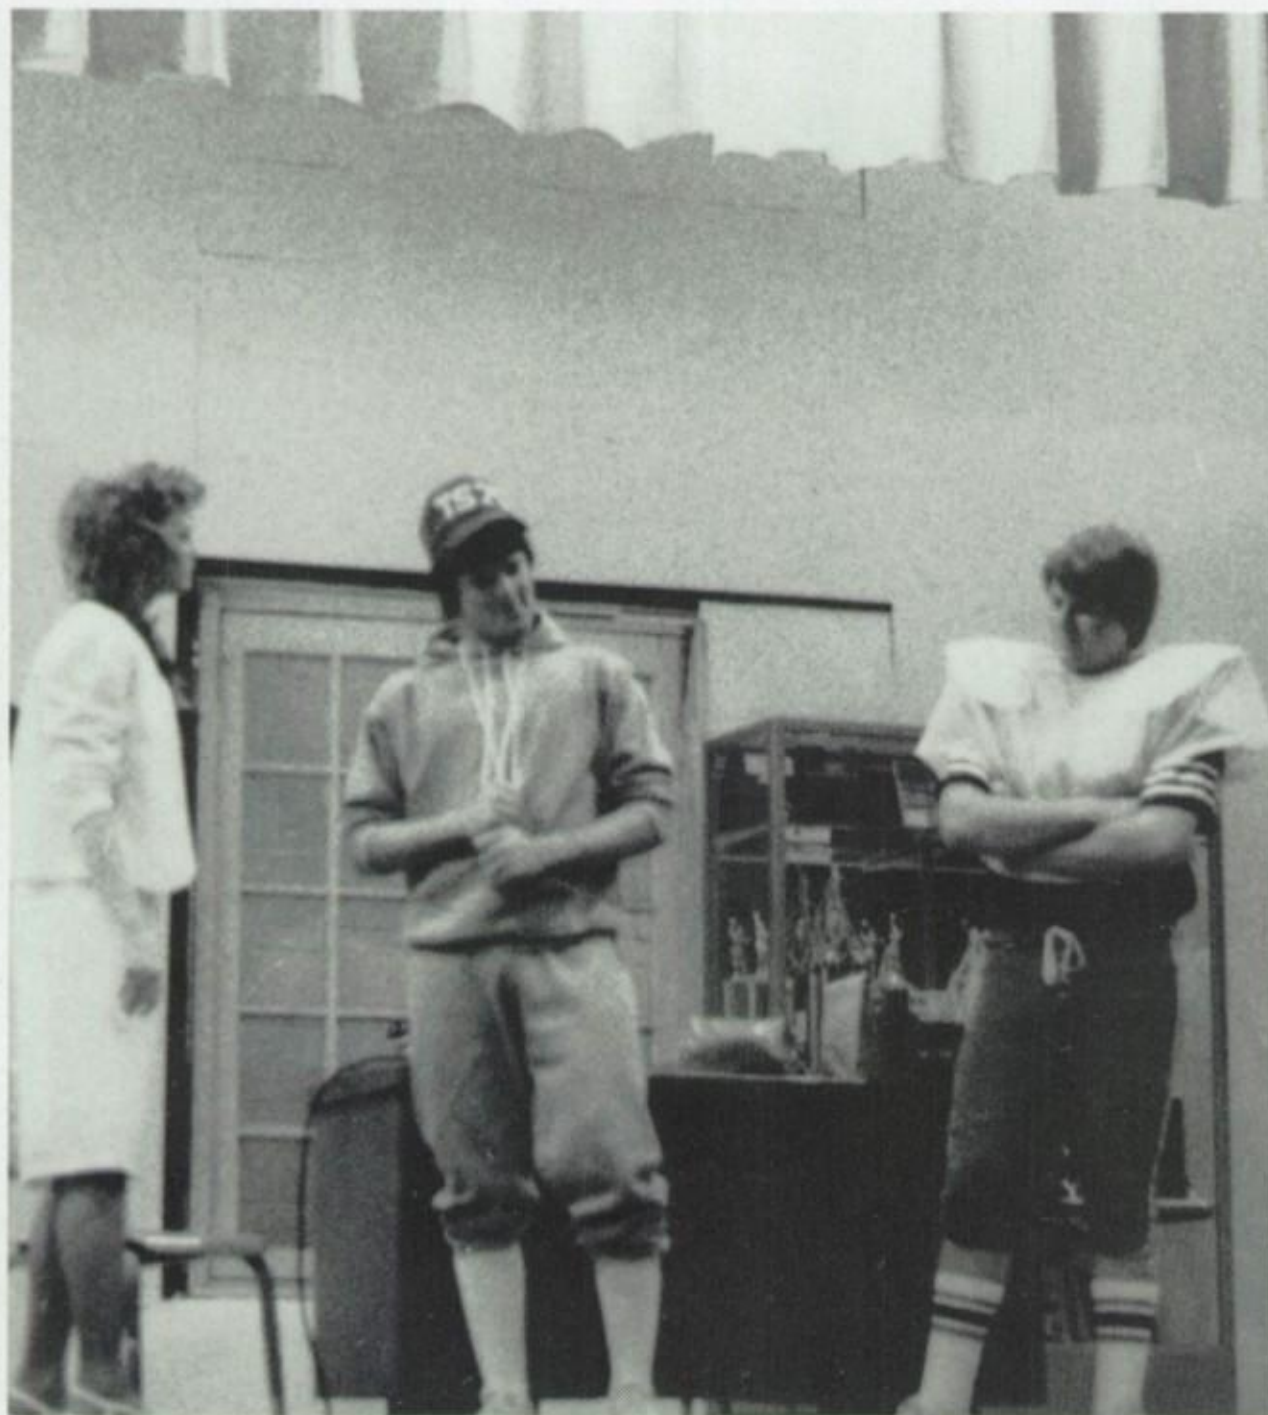

School isn't that tiring is it? Looks that way for Kim Reed who is spending the rest of her afternoon asleep in Mrs. Traywick's class.

For Emmitt Adcock it doesn't take skill or know-how to operate a typewriter he says, "The simplest way to type is simply to look at the keys and start pressing buttons."

Looking really classy is Clyde Clevenger portraying Classy Clementine in the 83-84 Sweet Thang Pageant put on by the F.H.S. Student Council.

More Than A Fifty-Cent Movie . . .

It looks like this Junior, Terry Smith, forgot his lines. Terry was a performer in a play put on by the Drama Club called, "Are Teachers Human," Alice Frady and Jay Smith were also performers.

Take it easy, you still have a few years before Broadway! This Freshman, John Frady, was a performer in the play put on by the Speech class in March called "The Runaways."

Performing as a young runaway girl is Kristi Pyron and her co-actor Richard Sanders acting as an unsavory character in the play put on by the Speech class called "The Runaways."

Acting as a half-witted football player is Jay Smith, and as Mr. Stone the school Superintendant, Jimmy Baker. On the bench are: Sheila Green, Nancy Latham, Renee Milam, and Kristi Pyron.

During this play called "Are Teachers Human," acting as the High School principal, Steven Miller tries to make his move on a new teacher, Alice Frady. Kim Russell was acting as the school secretary.

Taking a break from practicing is this Sophomore, Sherri Anderson. She acted as a runaway in the play called, "The Runaways." Sherri reigned as the Rodeo Queen for the 1983-84' school year.

The Best That's Ever Been!!

Goofing off comes easy to these four Juniors, Kim Reed, Cissy Sain, Donna Whisenhunt and Sheila McElhannon who attended the Journalism Camp at Ouachita Baptist University at Arkadelphia.

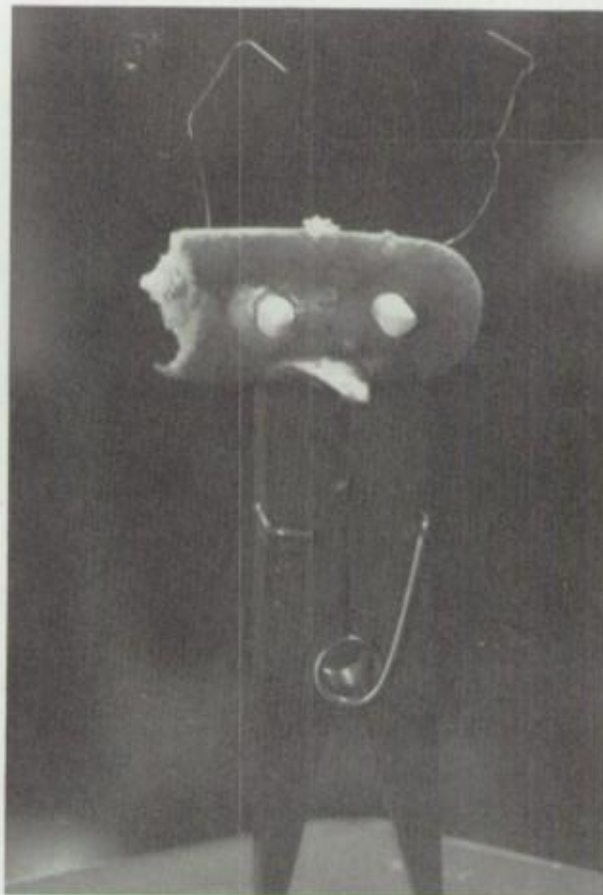

CENSORED

The sun may be bright but working all day and night on the sports section of the 1983-84 Gator yearbook is what put this Junior, Michelle Russell's eyes out!

During the 1983-84 year, the Journalism class accomplished a lot, to show their appreciation to Mrs. Traywick, they gave her the Twinkie of the year award.

Always looking cross-eyed from staring at layouts and photos, Paige Cleghorn is section editor for clubs and organizations on the 1983-84 Gator yearbook.

Work, work, work was not all the Journalism class did after deadline. There was time for Cissy Sain to read a magazine. Cissy is Section Editor for school life and Jr. High.

Having to work rain or shine on the 1983-84 Gator yearbook is Sheila McElhannon who came in out of the rain to go over layouts.

Being sponsor for the 1983-84 Gator yearbook has brought on many successes and being able to take good pictures is one as shown here, taken by Mrs. Traywick.

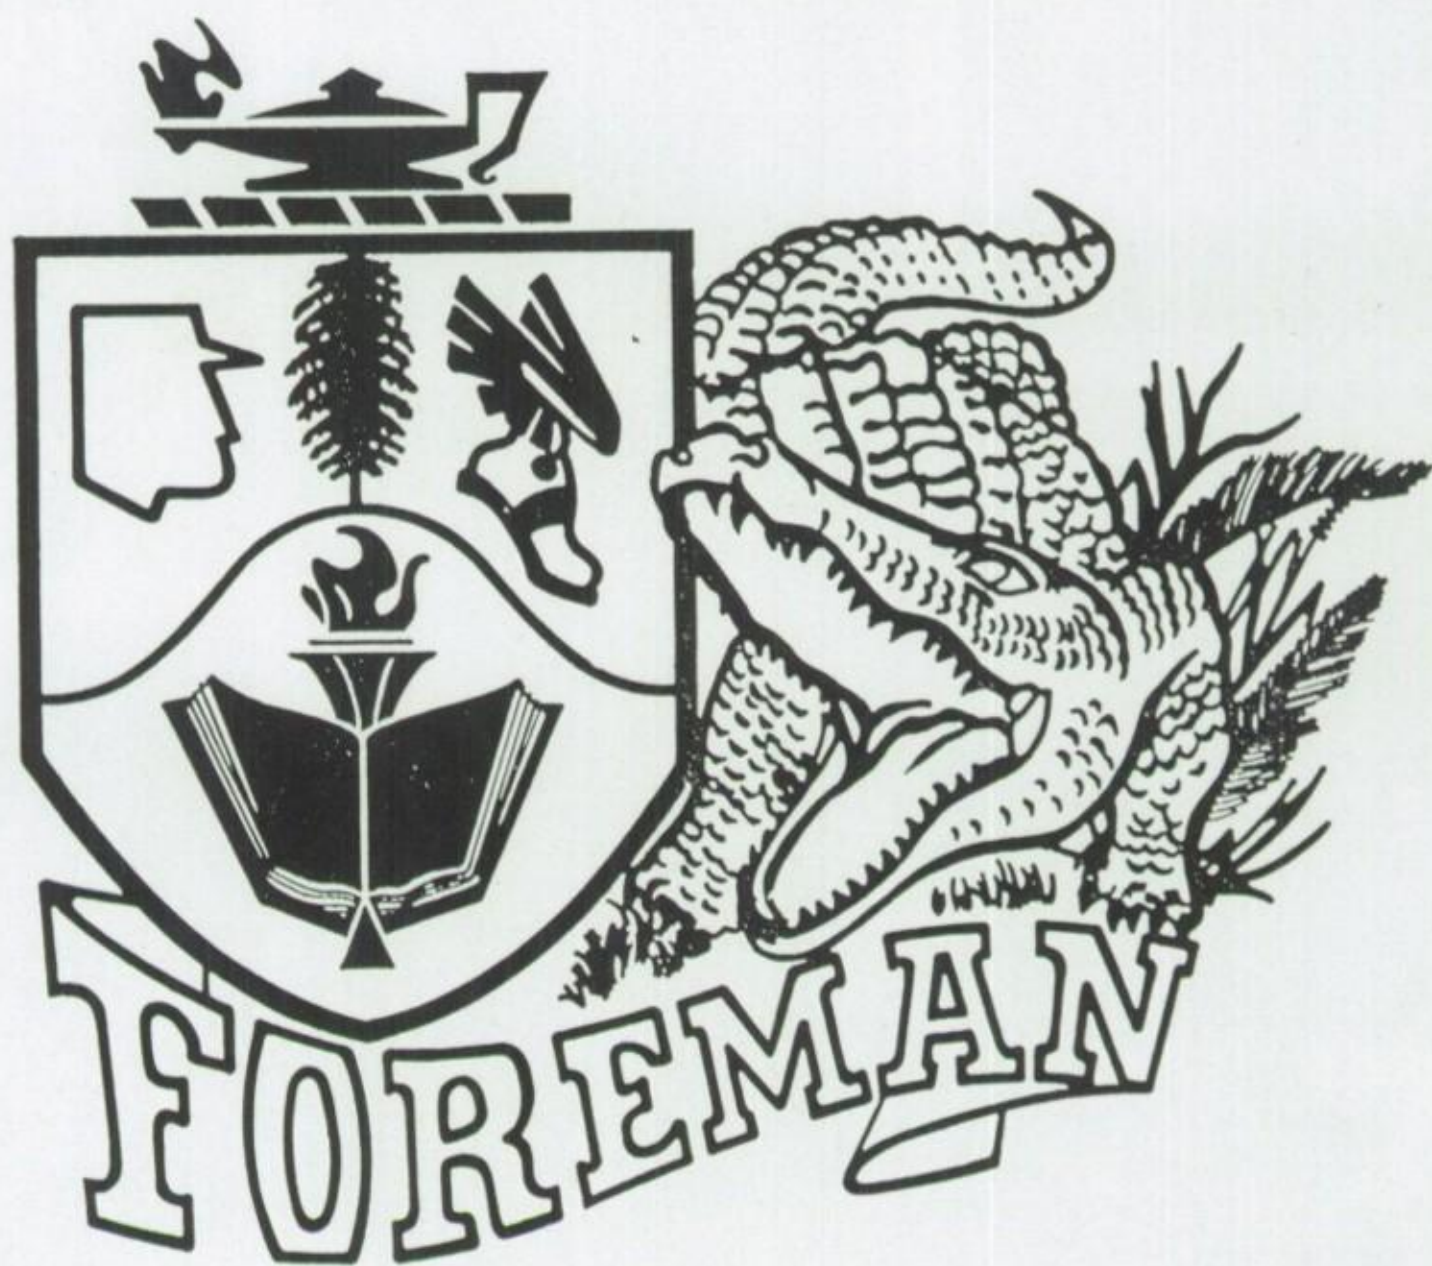

One of the hardest jobs and the one requiring most of the work on the 1983-84 Gator yearbook is the one Bruce Talley has and that's photographer and assistant dark room technician.

ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES

Teri Taylor, a Sophomore this year, is more interested in her pencil than in what the meeting today is about.

Sherri Morton and Melethia Stuart listen attentively while the FHA officers talk about what is on the agenda for this meeting. Sherri is a Senior this year and Melethia is a junior.

Debbie Carver and Michelle Grimes stand to say the FHA creed. They had to know before the FHA banquet. Debbie is third Vice in FHA and a Sophomore and Michelle is a Freshman.

Pam Heath, FHA's First Vice-President for the 84-85 school year and Tracy Lawrence, gathers around Ms. Farmer to get the important details of the banquet straight. Pam and Tracy are both Sophomores.

Ms. Farmer, Donna Whisenhunt, Sheila McElhannon, and Michelle Russell attended the Federation XVIII Planning meeting in Nashville. Ms. Farmer, Advisor, Donna Whisenhunt, President, Sheila McElhannon, First Vice, Michelle Russell, Second Vice.

Andy Gauldin holds the flag in the Grand Entry. Andy ropes calves. He is a Junior this year and has been in FFA for three years. Andy is also a member of the weight team.

Brad McCombs makes sure that the bulls have plenty of water and that his halter is tight. Brad is a member of FFA this year.

Karen Southerland and Clyde Clevenger carry the Foreman Riding Club Flags in the Grand Entry. Clyde has been a member of FFA for three years. Karen is Secretary in FFA. Karen and Clyde are both Juniors.

Allen Horn refastens his bull's halter to the fence. This is to make sure the cattle don't wander away. Allen Horn is a Freshman this year. This is his first year in FFA.

Being a new member to FFA isn't easy. Here, the new members get their hands painted green. Their hands have to stay painted for 24 hours.

Scott Cowling and Terry Bowman watch to see if any of the bulls or broncs get out of their stalls. This is both Scott and Terry's first year in FFA. They are both Freshmen.

Karen Southerland and Clyde Clevenger ride in the Grand Entry. Karen is Secretary of FFA and class favorite of the Junior class. Clyde has been in FFA for three years. His main event is calf roping.

Clyde Clevenger and Brandon Carver show off their cattle. Clyde and Brandon are both members of FFA. Clyde is a Junior and Brandon is a Senior.

Richard Carver, Carla Monroe, and Eric Cowling are the attentive listeners at this Student Council meeting, while Charles Hudgeons plays around with the computer. Todd Sharp is President and Eric Cowling is Vice-President.

The Homecoming Float was made by Student Council. At the front of the float are Herman Berry, King and Cathy Roberts, Queen. Making the float is just one of Student Council's duties.

Here, the Homecoming Queen, Cathy Roberts, and the Maids, talk to the spectators during half-time. Cathy was escorted by Herman Berry. Michelle Russell was escorted by Eric Cowling, and Leann La-Voice was escorted by Brandon Carver.

Todd Sharp is showing he has a lot of spirit at a pep rally. Todd sets an example for the rest of the Student Body on how to behave. Todd is Student Council President.

Eric Cowling, Vice President of Student Council, is a very good and quiet listener while someone else is talking. Eric is also Vice-President of FCA and President of NHS. Eric is a Senior this Year.

Don Adams, the 11th grade Student Council Representative, is surprised by the camera as he walks into Algebra class. Don is a member of NHS and is the Junior class favorite.

The Student Council is a very active part of the Student Body. The Student Council hears the complaints from the students and takes it to the School Board. Student Council also makes the Homecoming float and they sponsor the "Miss Sweet Thang" contest, of which Jay Sanders was the winner this year. Student Council also sponsors the Toys for Tots. This is a project where you pay a toy instead of money to see a program. The toys go to underprivileged children to brighten their day. Student Council keeps up with what is going on and they post it on the school bulletin sign. Todd Sharp is President, Eric Cowling is Vice-President, Charles Hudgeons, Reporter, Carla Monroe, Secretary, and Willie Wilder is Treasurer. The Student Council sponsors are Mrs. Baker and Mr. Oliver.

Steven Miller, Glenn Fowler, Stephanie Miller, Kim Wiseman, Eric Oliver, Vivian Jackson, and Toni Green of the Foreman High School Band play during half-time.

The band's interest is more on the field, waiting for the winning touchdown, during the last minutes of the game, than on their instruments.

Pete Wiseman practices playing the snare drums. Pete is a sophomore this year. He has been in the band for four years.

Frankie Jay Smith and Steven Miller display their trumpet playing abilities during the half-time activities. Frankie and Steven are both Sophomores this year.

Stephanie Miller, a 7th grader and a member of the Foreman High band, plays the alto saxophone. This is Stephanie's first year in the band.

The Foreman High School Marching Band displays its coordination and skill as they march along the sidelines preparing to take their places on the field.

The Foreman High Band members play a go get-um fight song to boost the football boys spirit at an away football game.

Don Adams checks the card catalog, in the library, to be sure that there isn't any misplaced or mixed up cards. Don is a Junior and was voted class favorite by his classmates.

The fire drills in school are usually scheduled around the tenth of every month. The best fire drill for high school and Jr. High was on October 18. High school took 58 seconds and Jr. high took 43 seconds. The longest fire drill taken was 1 minute and 15 seconds, but that is still under the state limitations of 2 minutes.

The purpose for fire drills is to get students prepared in case there is a real fire and to keep students from panicking.

"The need for a good fire safety program in our schools is made evident by the heavy toll fire takes every year in lives and property. This loss can be lessened through an adequate fire safety program that will instill in our youth habits that will be practiced throughout life." quoted Don R. Roberts, Director of the Department of Education.

Don Adams, one of the six Senior High fire marshalls, shows where all the fire extinguishers are located. Don is also a member of NHS.

Kim Russell is being very precise at making headlines. It takes a very steady hand to keep the letters in a straight line. Kim is feature Editor of the Gator Times.

Nancy Latham corrects all her mistakes. Nancy is on the paper staff in Journalism class. Nancy is a Junior this year. This is her first year on the school newspaper staff.

Kim Russell types up a column for the newspaper while Ronnie Gregory and Nancy Latham check the facts of the front cover story. Kim, Ronnie and Nancy are all Juniors.

Eric Cowling, President of National Honor Society, welcomes the parents of the inductees and the student body to the induction of its new members. Eric is also Vice-President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

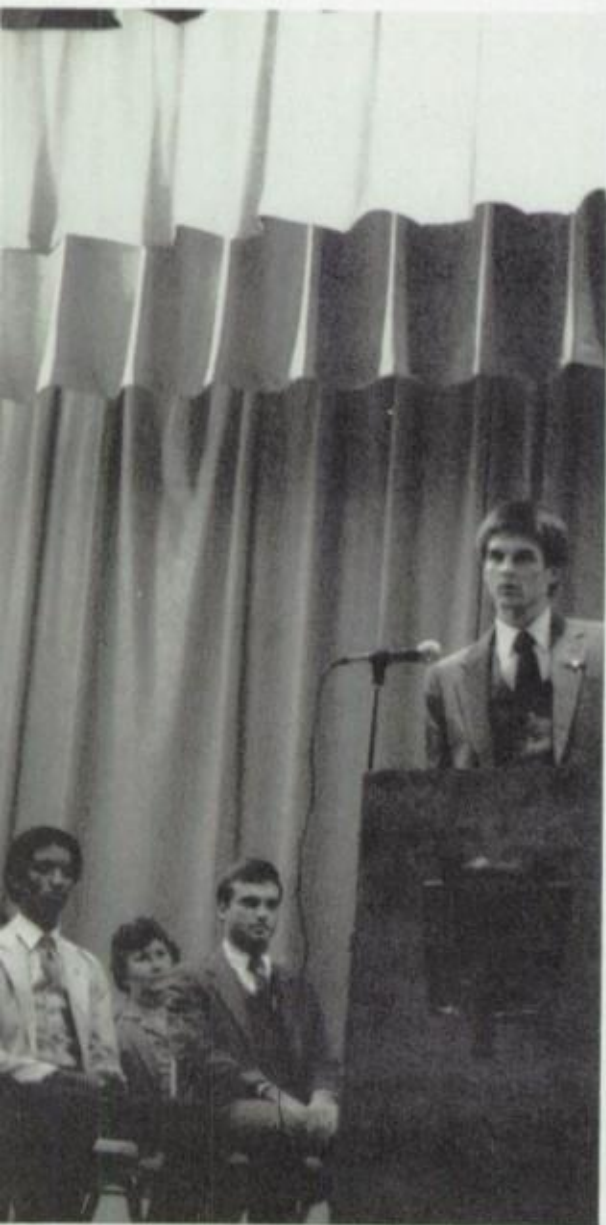

The National Honor Society is a very old organization. The way you get chosen to be in this distinguished club is to get voted on by the Sr. High teachers. Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character, are the criteria. You must maintain an average of at least an 85. There is an informal tapping a couple of weeks before the induction. This year, initiation involved wearing a costume of a character out of a book, escorting a teacher to class and getting their signatures, carrying members' books to class and getting their signatures also. This year's officers are: Eric Cowling, President, Charles Hudgeons, Vice-President, Paul Bishop, Secretary, and Willie Wilder, Student Council Representative. Margret Harrison was this year's NHS guest speaker at the induction ceremony. Don Adams, Karen Southerland, Paula Key Woods, Michelle Russell, Donna Roberts, Deanna Wills, Todd Sharp, and Kristie Pyron are the new inductees. After the induction ceremony, all the members and their families went to the National Honor Society Tea. The NHS raises money by selling paper, pencils, and pens.

As a result of new regulations from the national office, method of selection and activities will vary next year.

Don Adams, with the help of Charles Hudgeons and Paul Bishop, two NHS officers, signs the NHS membership register at the induction which was held December 2, 1983.

Eric Cowling and Paul Bishop look over the agenda for this NHS meeting. Eric is president of NHS and Vice-President of both FCA and Student Council. Paul is Secretary for NHS.

Paula Key Woods, one of the eight new members of the National Honor Society, shows off one of her costumes she had to wear all week as part of her initiation into NHS.

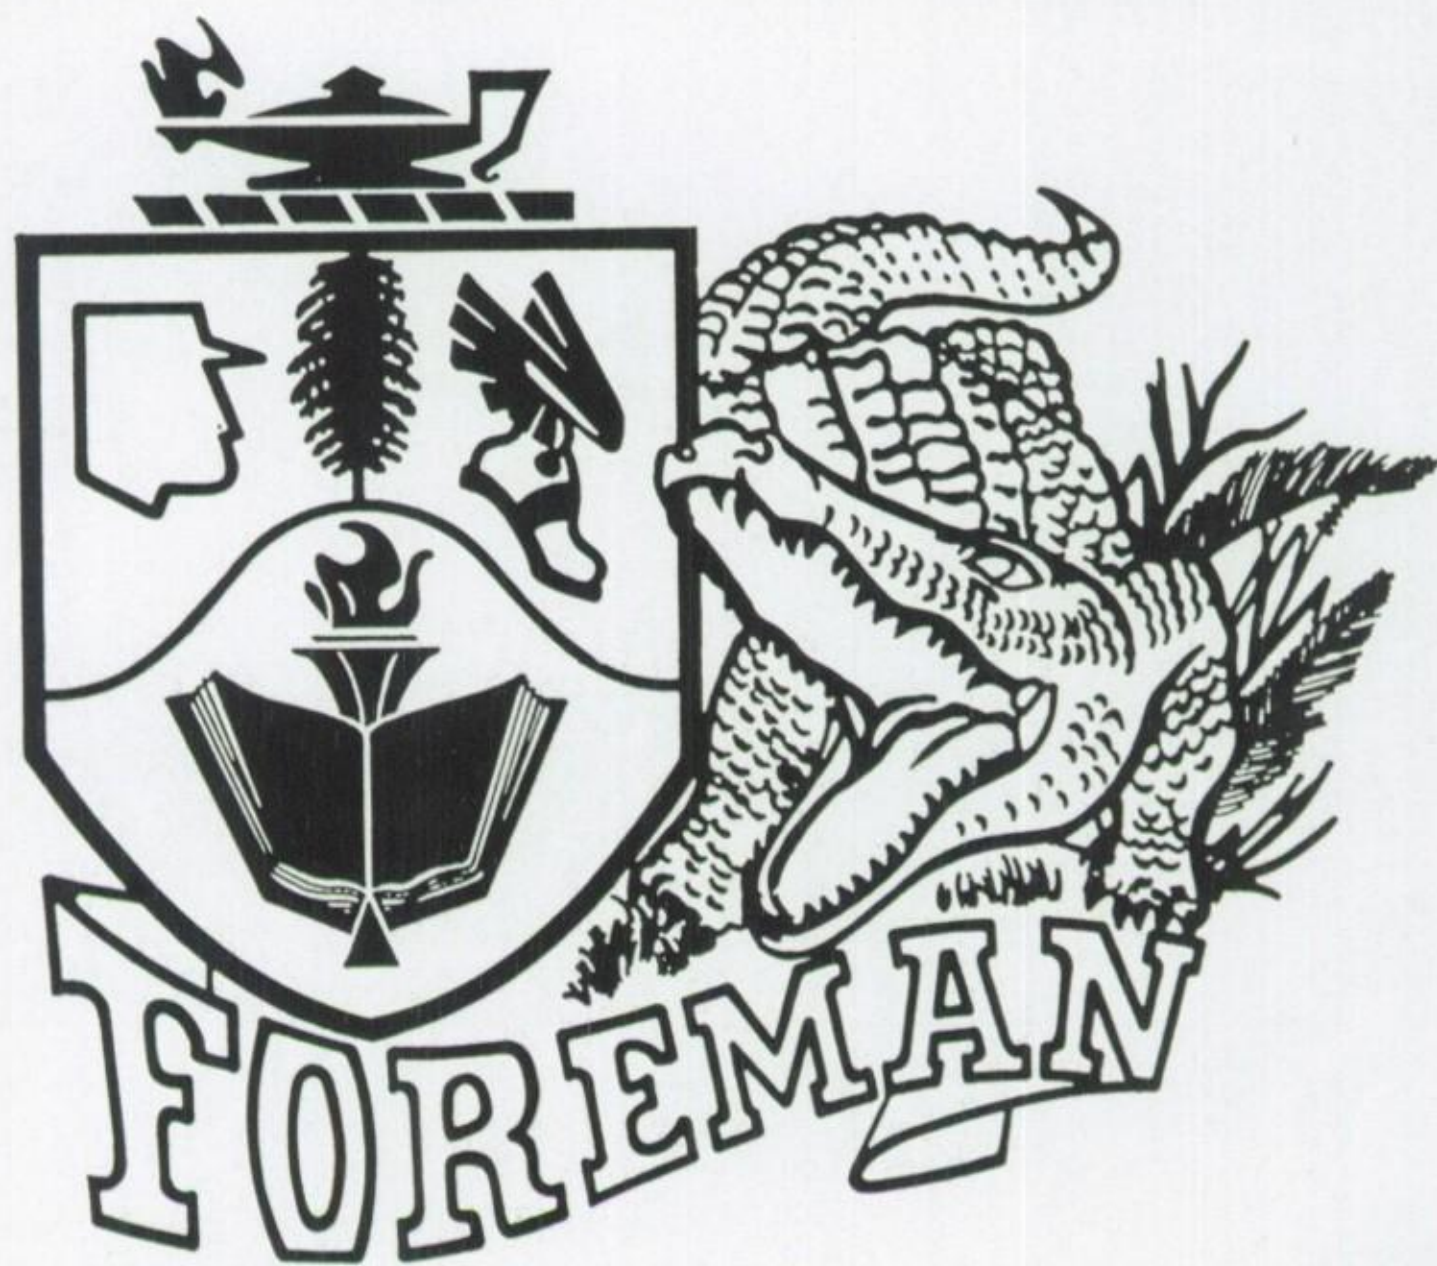

Michelle Russell, Paula Key Woods, Karen Southerland and Don Adams are four of the new inductees into the NHS. Karen and Don are the Junior class favorites, and Michelle is president of the Junior class.

Daryl Roberts, one of the members of FBLA, is intent on making the other members see his method clearly. Nemeshia Hardwick is President of FBLA and Mrs. S. Smith is sponsor.

"Gators will shine"
was the theme for the Sr.'s homecoming float.

The seniors show their spirit at a pep rally. It looks as though the girls, Carla, Cindy, and Alice, have the most spirit.

Willie Wilder and Herman Berry wait patiently to receive their senior memory book. Meanwhile, Willie gives the camera a quick smile.

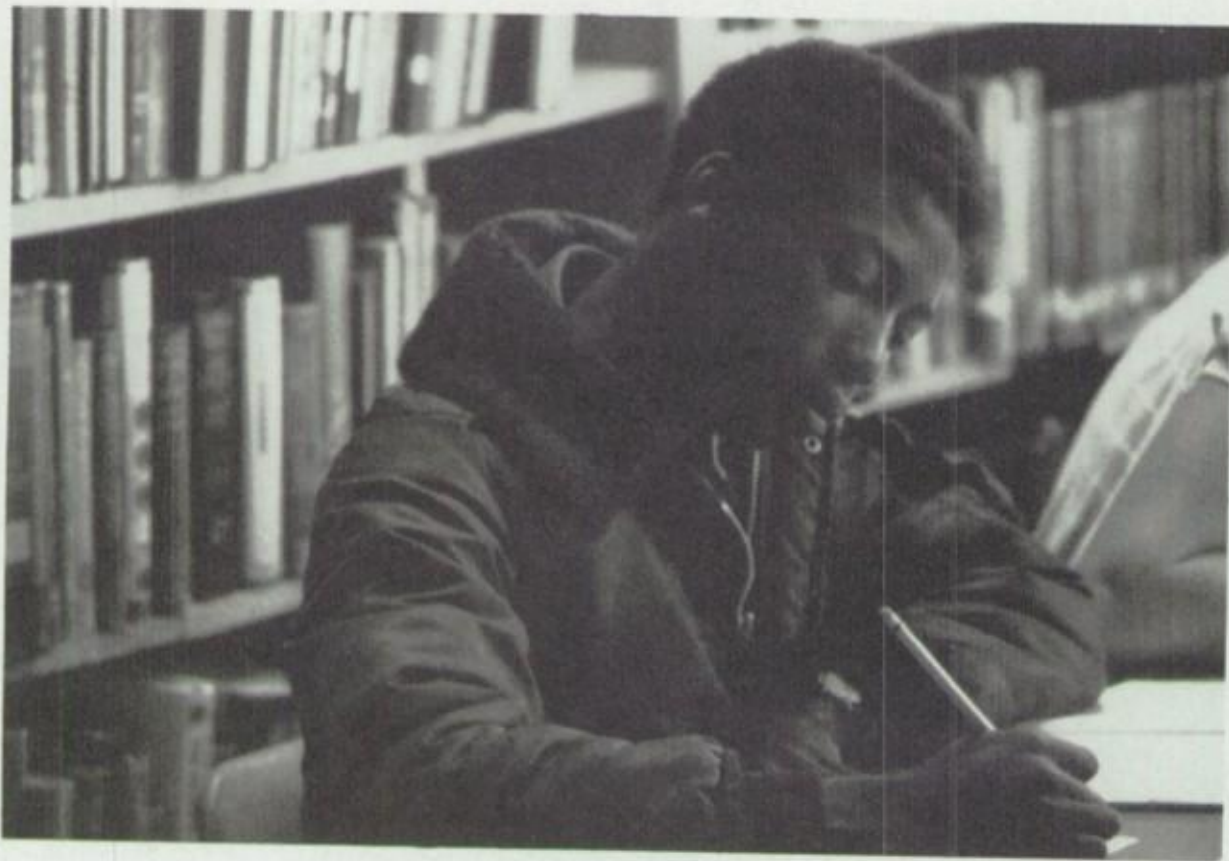

Tommy Cleghorn presents Troy Lewis with a certificate for one full week of attendance in Mrs. Traywick's English class.

Todd Sharp and Jimmy Baker, seniors, take time out during Homecoming coronation to show their true feelings for one another.

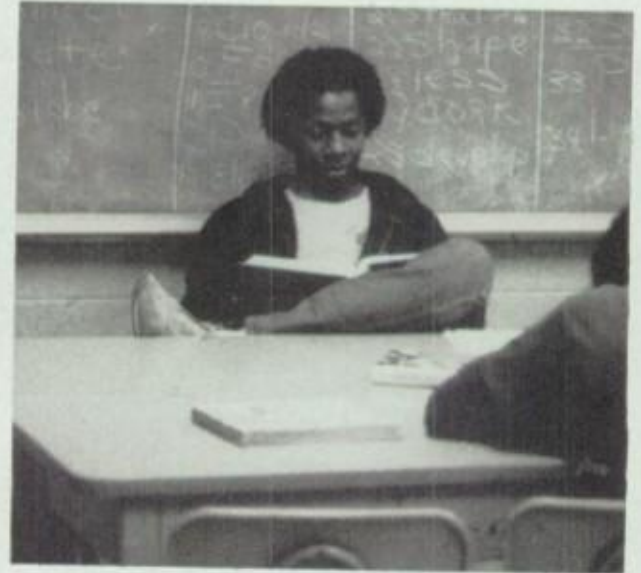

Sylveter Haywood, Ann Easter, James Horn, and Brandon Carver listen attentively to Mr. Arnold while ordering their senior rings.

Will Smith, on one of his better days, works hard to finish before the noon bell sounds.

Sylvester Haywood looks very relaxed, and very interested in the book he is reading.

Barbara Bromsey, a junior, and Bill Dixon "jam" to the sounds of the Dazz Band.

Ms. Farmer, her date, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith sit back and watch the students dance.

Bob Strout, a D.J. from Y102 FM, looks through his records to find a requested song, while the other D.J. stands by and watches.

Connie Heath, a sophomore, and Tommy Cleghorn, a senior, take their dancing more serious than Kim Reed, a junior, and Jimmy Purtell.

Paula Key Woods, a junior, was escorted to the prom by her husband, Dwayne Woods.

Kristie Pyron and Jimmy Baker, both seniors, enjoy dancing, but Kristie prefers not to be in pictures.

With all the girls in their formals and the guys in their tuxedos, soft drinks, dancing and a lot of picture taking, the Little River County Fair Barn was a lively place. The juniors decorated the fair barn with streamers, silhouettes, and a theme banner. The colors were red, silver, and black. The theme was "This One's For You."

In the past years a band has always been hired to play at the prom. But this year things were a little different. A D.J. from Y102 FM was hired. There were various styles of music available to suit everyone's own taste.

The prom isn't just for the students. Although the faculty is invited to chaperone, they too dress up and bring their dates.

Ms. Farmer and Mr. Traywick were the prom sponsors. Mr. Lairmore also helped.

Graduation . . . The End Or Beginning?

Todd Sharp and Charles Hudgeons, both members of the National Honor Society, receive their honor medals from Mrs. Norma Rae Smith during the graduation ceremony. Todd and Charles also both received athletic awards.

Cynthia Lee was presented a scholarship by Mrs. Norma Rae Smith. The scholarship was from the Education Organization, Phi Delta Kappa.

Cynthia was the first student to ever win this scholarship. She was chosen out of students from Foreman, Ark. High, and Tex. High.

She won this by writing an outstanding essay on "Problems In Education Today".

Cynthia was also selected DAR Good Citizen this year.

Paul Chaney gives a big smile as he is congratulated by Mr. Lee on receiving his diploma.

Willie Wilder gives his salutatorian speech near the beginning of the ceremony. Willie received academic and sports awards.

Rev. Lampkin was chosen for the second year in a row to be the guest speaker at graduation.

After the ceremony the seniors counted to three and threw up their hats.

Paul Bishop, Valedictorian, makes his speech.

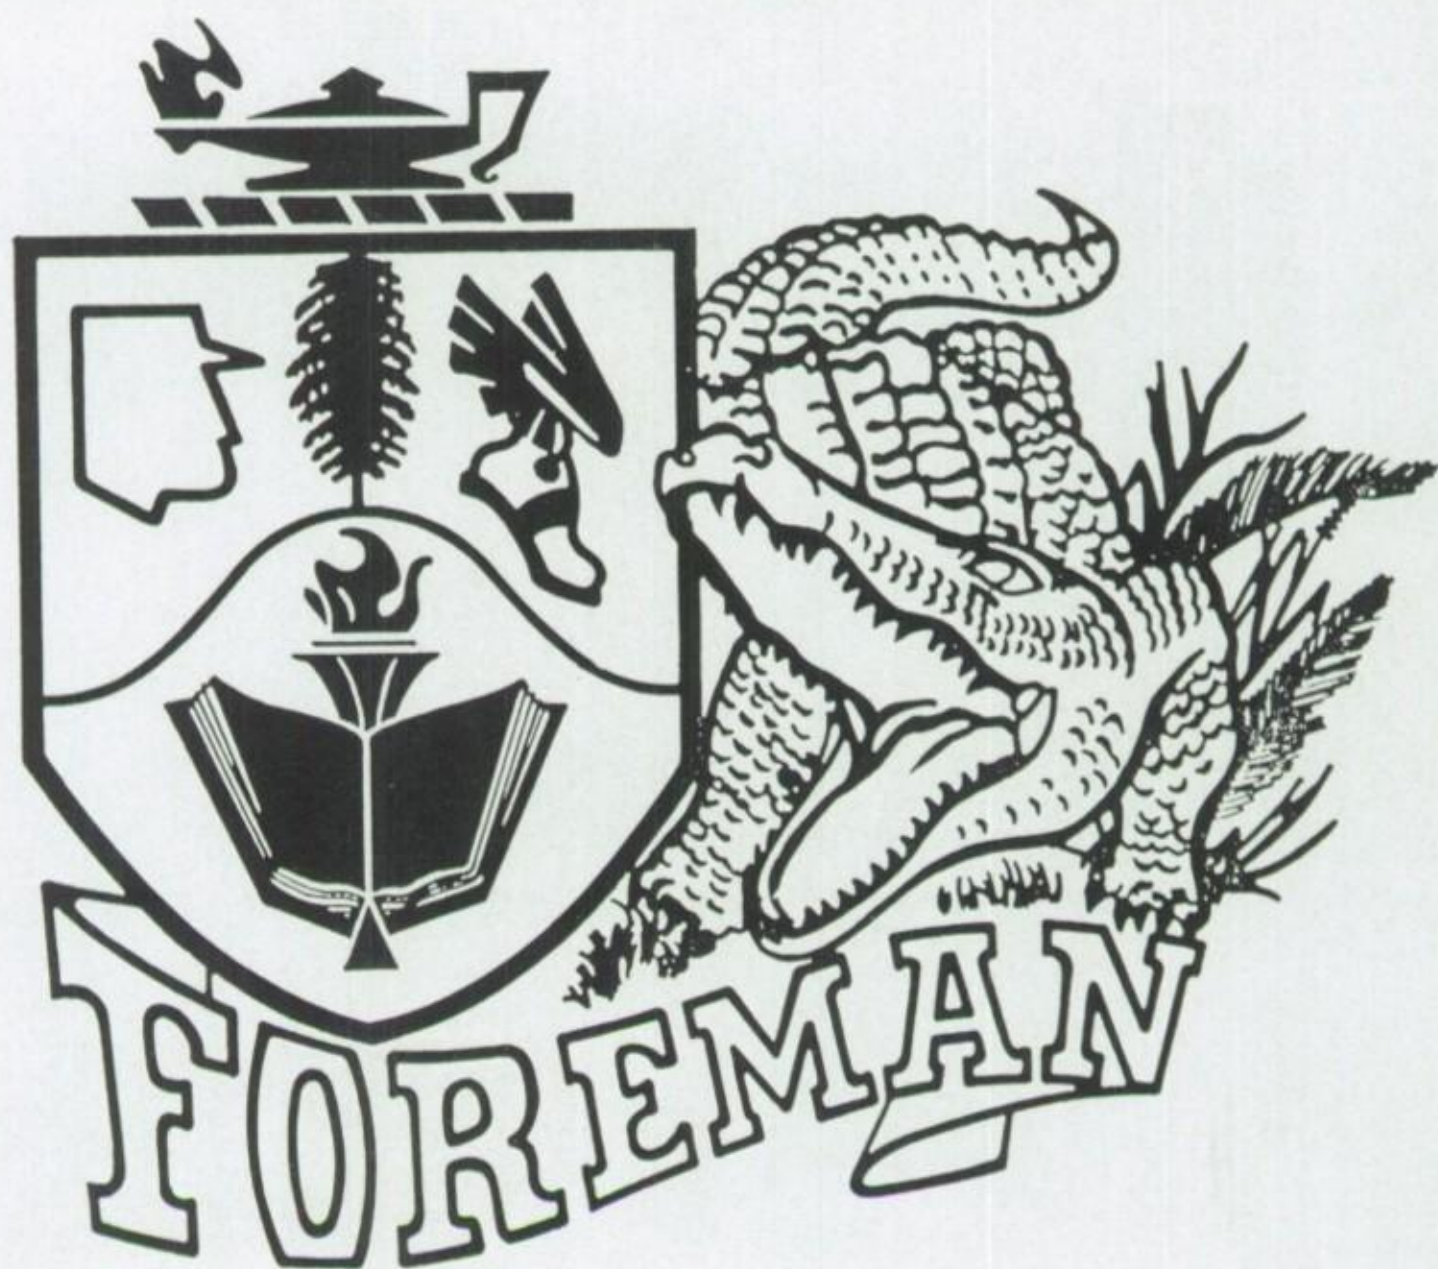

Mr. Lee congratulates Tony Cross.

The ushers, Paula Woods, and Donna Whisenhunt, follow the seniors off the field.

Is your phone giving you the runaround?

If you're tired of running all over your house to answer the telephone, we have a step-saving solution. Extension phones. Extension phones can be installed wherever you spend a lot of time. In the kitchen, bedroom or even the laundry room. And you'll not only save running around, but you'll have the comfort of a phone close at hand in case of emergencies.

Today's extension phones come in an amazing variety of styles and colors, so you can match your extension phone to the decor of any room in your home.

If you're tired of getting the runaround from your phone, phone us for the newest in extension telephones.

Even though this senior, Michael Dossett, wasn't a member in the Journalism class, his help was greatly appreciated.

As Michael puts the finishing details on his designs, he looks at the camera to show the pride that he takes in his work.

Michael Designed Our Cover

Taking time out from designing ideas for the division pages, Michael finds time to paint a ceramic owl.

Summing up this year is really hard to do in only a few words when there is so much that has been achieved. Every single individual here at F.H.S. has shown his or her own special individuality to make the year complete in his or her own special way.

When it comes to sports every single player was totally dedicated to his or her job, and don't forget the cheerleaders and fans. They were behind the lines, cheering and standing proud whether we won or lost.

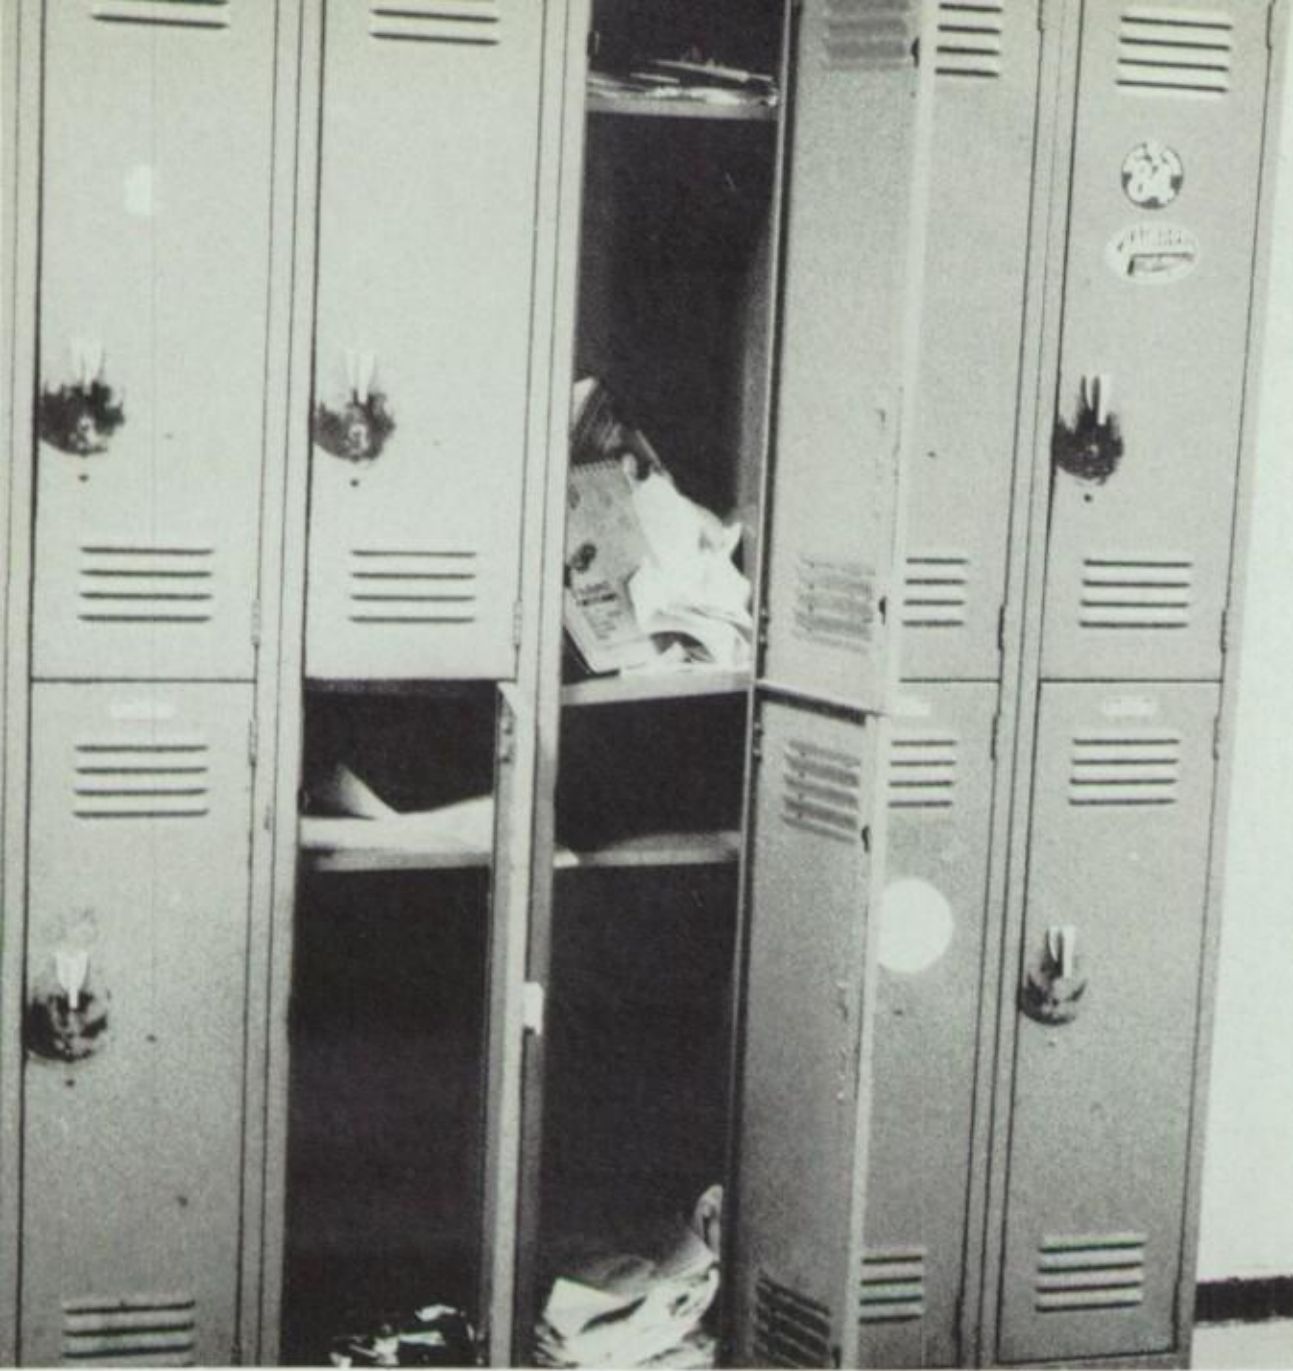

After 3:05 the hallway looks lonesome.

Doc Moore pays his locker fee before the end of school.

Karen Southerland and Clyde Clevenger say good-bye at the end of the day.

This group of girls say good-bye - till next year.

F.H.S. may be a small school to some people, but to us it means everything. It started the beginning of our education and has urged us on, furthering our education.

Without all the support and dedication from the faculty, maintenance, business, outside supporters, and let's not forget the students, F.H.S. would be nothing but a dreary building filled with overwhelming loneliness. Always remember that without "U" there is no "us".

Someone isn't going to be thrilled with cleaning out lockers.

The buses leave carrying the students home - till tomorrow.

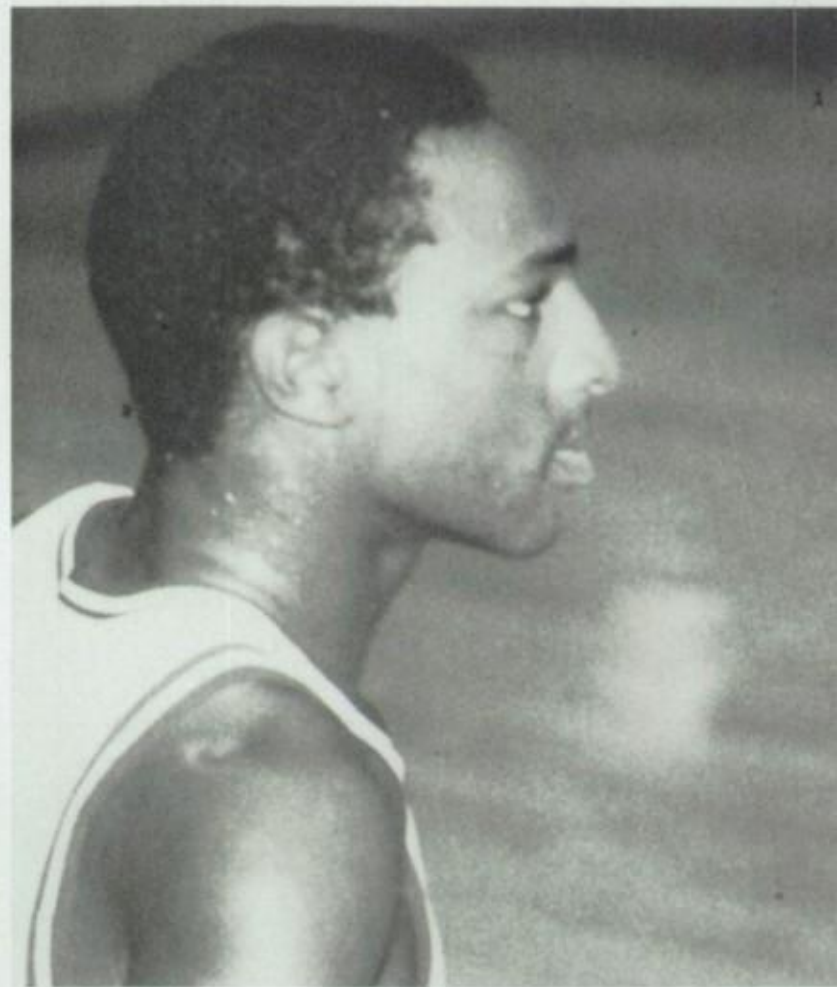

“Without U”

Troy Lewis goes off the football field to get advice from the Gator coaches.

Teri Taylor and Sandra Green enjoy the games at the annual Fair and Rodeo.

Angela Golden, Missy Blankenship, and Teresa Hudson enjoy their noon hour together.

Good ole Garfield was the unofficial mascot of the yearbook staff, and Mrs. Traywick's buddy!

There Is No “Us”!
